

WALTON OUSTED, STILL FIGHTS

HIGHWAY SHOP UNITS BURNED EARLY TODAY

Fire Causes Loss Estimated
at From $15,000 to $25,
000, Fully Insured

WATCHMAN IS BURNED

Fire Started When Lantern
Strikes Truck and Explosion Follows, Is Report

Fire which originated early today destroyed the main building
and boiler room of the state highway shop units on the prison road in the eastern part of the city. The loss is variously estimated from $15,000 to $25,000, no accurate estimate being possible at this time.
Fully covered by insurance, according to state officials. Since the trucks which burned were given to the state from the war department's war surplus the actual monetary loss to the state through the fire is fully covered by insurance, it is believed.

The fire started, according to Nightwatchman Matt Clouten, when he struck a lantern against
a truck and it fell into a pile of gasoline. An explosion and fire followed, he said.

Two Nash quad trucks, one three-fourths ton white truck, two
Ford touring cars, one five-ton Ford tractor, $2,000 worth of machines and probably $1,500 of mechanics tools were destroyed in the fire. Two cars were taken from the building.

The city fire department responded and connected hose on fourteenth street, after having to return for more hose to make the long connection. Numerous volunteers responded.

The airplane of Harry Potter, in
the open near the building, was endangered by sparks but was moved to a place of safety.

Three other buildings in the shop unit were saved.

The first alarm came about 10:30 p. m. Mr. Clouten suffered severe burns on the left hand and about the ears, and today was in St.
Alexis hospital. He said today that he was in the office when he thought he smelled paint burning and started back with lantern to investigate. He was in the office when the explosion followed. He tried to open a door nearby but could not and then crawled along the side wall to the office.

The building, a frame building
consisting of a former airplane hangar and an office addition on the front of it, and the boiler room next to it, were leveled to the ground. Splendid work was done in saving the other buildings.

Frank Hubbard, foreman, declared
the shops were kept clean and were electrically lighted. Sometime ago a representative of the war department told the state highway commission that North Dakota was taking better care of surplus war material than any other state, he said. The shop system was highly in a report.
The highway commission has received thousands of dollars worth of trucks and parts from the war department. They have been repaired at the shops and set out to counties and cities to be used on road work, at actual cost, the plan enabling the subdivisions to get valuable vehicles for a few hundred dollars.

Investigate Fire
William Guttelman, superintendent of the shop, who investigated the fire today, said that the fire probably spread after the oil from the broken lantern ignited the oil soaked floor. There was no oil on the floor, he said, but the floor being kept strictly free of such vessels at all times. The building, he added, was equipped with electric lights.

WHITE WAY TO BE LIGHTED FOR TEACHERS

The entire white way lighting system of the city will be lighted during the latter part of the week when the state education association is in convention here. It was decided by members of the committee in meeting last night.

The commission last night received a petition for installation of a sewer on Eleventh street from Avenue D to the Boulevard and had before it petitions for installation of lights at Sweet and Sixteenth streets and near the new Riverside school.

USE OF DAIRY PRODUCTS GROWS

Washington, Nov. 20.—Forty-one gallons of milk, 141 pounds of butter, and 3.8 pounds of cheese were
the average consumption of dairy products of each person in the United States during last year, statistics of the Department of Agriculture
show.

Use of these commodities showed
an increase over all previous years.
It is estimated that a little more than one-third of the total money paid for food last year was spent for dairy products.

HARDING MEMORIAL BOARD MEETS

For the first time in many moons, a president of the United States left the White House to attend a meeting. President Coolidge is shown here attending the first meeting in the capital of the Harding Memorial Association Board of Trustees. Seated, left to right: Edward B. McLean, Secretary of State; Hughes, President Coolidge; Secretary Mellon; Secretary Weeks; and Secretary of the Navy Denby. Standing: James J. Bay, Jr., Amy, Gen. Dargherly, Brig. Gen. Sawyer, Senator Joseph Frelinghuysen of New Jersey, Governor D. R. Crissinger, Fred Upham, and George Christian.

COAST WINS VICTORY ON ALIENS LAWS

Supreme Court Upholds Right
to Bar Aliens from Lands
in California

Washington, Nov. 20.—The Pacific coast states won a complete victory in the supreme court yesterday in their efforts to prevent Japanese from acquiring any control over, or interest in, agricultural lands.

Having a week ago sustained the validity of the alien land laws under which aliens ineligible to citizenship were prohibited from owning or leasing agricultural lands, the court today took the final step to completely settle the issue by holding that in the construction of the state must be carefully considered
and that any transaction which would have the effect in any reasonable contingency of giving such aliens any control over agricultural lands equivalent to ownership, and leasing must be construed as prohibited.

In testing out the alien land laws
of California and Washington, attacks were directed not only through proposed leasing, as in the cases decided last week, but also through
"cropping" contracts and attempts by ineligible aliens to acquire stock
in companies authorized to buy and sell agricultural lands.

While constitutional and treaty questions as bearing upon the cases were considered, nothing was found by the court, Justice Butler stated, to narrow the construction of the

WOULD BUILD NEW RAILROAD

Proposal Is to Build Railroad Line From Fargo to Grand Forks

The Red River Valley Railway
Company, incorporated in Minnesota,
December 15, 1914, with its principal offices in the McNight building, Minneapolis, has filed an application
with the State Railroad Commission for authority to issue 5,000 shares of common stock, valued at $100 a share.

The company, according to its attached articles of incorporation, was incorporated to build a railroad from Fargo to Winnipeg, while in the application it is stated it is proposed to build the road from Fargo to Grand Forks.

Incorporators are W. H. Graves,
Minneapolis; R. A. Hamilton, Milwaukee; C. M. Drew, Minneapolis.

It is stated $25,000 of stock has been issued to date. It is proposed to sell stock to the amount of $297, 500 for right-of-way, terminals, etc., $58,000 for grading, and $194,500 for rebuilding and other improvements.
The railroad commission has taken
no action on the petition.

NEWSPAPER LOSES CASE

A suit in district court in Mandala yesterday denied the claim of the Mankato News Publishing Company, a nonpartisan organ, for $700.55, alleged to have been due for publication of tabulations of the 1922 primary election returns. County Auditor Lee Nichols testified that he had submitted the full returns with instructions that the full returns would not be published, an abstract being furnished for publication.

OLSNES NOT TO INTERFERE

Commissioner of Insurance S. A.
Olsen will not intervene in a fight he says is brewing between two large associations of fire insurance companies. The commissioner was asked by individuals in the state to order all companies within the state and their representatives not to take any further steps to compel another company to withdraw from an agency, and to revoke licenses for violation of the order. The attorney general's office has held that the commissioner has no power to revoke licenses from such action.

LIQUOR ACT HITS RUNNERS

Manitoba's Law May Halt
Influx to U. S.

Fargo, Nov. 20.—The Manitoba
liquor control act will hamper runners across the border into the United States, it is permitted any at all, according to A. A. Stone, federal prohibition director for North Dakota, who has returned from a visit to Winnipeg.

Mr. Stone and B. C. Boyd, a federal agent of Grand Forks, visited Winnipeg last week to see just how the liquor control law was working out.

Under the control of the liquor control commission, sales are restricted that the would-be runner can only buy his shipments piecemeal or else have a large staff of co-conspirators buying it for him," he said, in explaining the workings of the law.

Under a ruling of the commission
one man may buy only one case of hard liquor a day and this must be delivered to his residence. However, if a man were to continue to buy a case a day for a period the officers would probably become suspicious
and investigate him.

"It is illegal to move this liquor from the residence where it was delivered and this portion of the law is being enforced when violators are caught. This would further hamper the work of the runner."

A hotel room is considered a temporary residence under the interpretation of the law.

THE WEATHER

tonight and Wednesday. Colder tonight and southeast portion Wednesday.

Weather Conditions
The low pressure area has moved to the northeastern Great Plains region and a high pressure area has appeared on the Pacific coast. Light precipitation has occurred in the Canadian Northwest and over the northern Rocky Mountain region and in Washington and Oregon. Temperatures are above the seasonal normal in most sections, with minimum temperatures of 40 degrees or above at many places over the Rocky Mountain region and northern Plains States.

WILTON RESIDENT DIES

Wilton, Nov. 20.—Mrs. R. C. Pra-vitz, of the city, died at Rochester, Minn., last week, where she had been receiving treatments for the past two weeks. Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon. Mrs.
Pravitz had made her home in Wilson since 1912, where her husband was in charge of the Northern Pacific station.

JOINT HEARING ON LIGNITE IS ASKED OF I. C. C.

Chairman Milhollan Would
Have Representative of That

START ON THE CASE

Proposal that the Interstate Commerce Commission, through an examiner, and the state railroad commission jointly hear the cases involving the proposed increase in lignite coal freight rates was announced today by Chairman Milhollan, for the North Dakota commission, urged that the hearing
be held in Bismarck early in 1924.

The Esch-Cummings act provides for co-operation between state commissions and the Interstate Commerce Commission in hearing complaints, the North Dakota commission said. The evidence in both the cases involving the rates from points to points within North Dakota, pending before the state commission, and the case relating to an increase from points within the state to points without the state, pending before the I. C. C., will be similar in many respects. It is pointed out, too, that should the state commission decline to increase lignite rates and the Interstate Commerce Commission order an increase,
the railroads could ask for an order from the national commission over-ruling the North Dakota commission on the ground that the state rates were discriminatory toward interstate commerce.

Although the Interstate Commerce Commission has suspended the proposed increase until April 4, 1924, there is a strong possibility that an early hearing will be ordered, because the case is on the suspension docket, Mr. Milhollan said.

A conference with representatives of the lignite operators will be held in the state this week by Mr. Mil-hollan. He said that the state commission has already started to investigate the case. Co-operation of both the public utilities commissions, and their rate experts, of Minnesota and
South Dakota has been pledged.
South Dakota is especially interested because the state has a coal mine
in North Dakota.

E. M. Hendricks of Aberdeen, S. D., engaged as traffic expert for the North Dakota body, will come on the job here November 24. V. E. Smart, former traffic expert of the commission, will return from Missouri and it is likely that James Little, now with the Nebraska commission, who was traffic expert for the North Dakota commission when the lignite
rates were made, will be called in.
Daniel Kelley, rate expert of the South Dakota commission, is preparing to attack the tariff filed by carriers.

Scores Conditions In Canneries

Anchorage, Alaska, Nov. 20.—Legislation compelling rigid examination of employees to be sent to Alaska for the salmon canning season was recommended in a federal grand jury report made recently to Judge
E. E. Ritchie at Valdez, Alaska. The report recommended that prospective employees should be examined at the port of embarkation to ascertain if they are drug addicts or afflicted with communicable diseases.

The report states that the use and sale of narcotics during the canning season at Bristol Bay, Alaska, is rampant; that cannery workers suffering from social diseases in aggravated form were permitted to work in packing fish; that degeneracy was in evidence and quite common; that the carrying of revolvers was general, resulting in crimes and violence.

The United States flag is to be shortened about 18 per cent in order to attain more artistic proportions.

ELECTION LAW VOTE MAY BE IN MARCH, '24

Governor Tells L. V. A. Conference in Fargo He Has
Not Decided on Time

LAW ARE DISCUSSED

Theodore G. Nelson Submits
Resignation as Chairman

Fargo, Nov. 20.—Declaring that he had not decided when he would call an election on the election laws passed by the last general assembly upon which a referendum has been petitioned but that he was mindful
of the fact that the legislature intended them to be submitted at the first state-wide election after their adoption, Governor R. A. Nestos advised the L. V. A. conference of the Independent Voters Association "to prepare immediately for contingencies."

The Governor's statement was made shortly before the committee recessed at noon today, following a round table discussion of the attitude on the election laws. He declared that he would call an election either at the presidential preference primary in March or at the general election in November. He said it was quite plain that the legislature intended the laws to be referred at the first election but that the 7,000 signers of the petition had asked for a vote in November. The only question in his mind, he said, was whether the voice of the 7,000 signers or the voice of the legislature was to be heeded.

When informed it was the consensus of the committee present that preparation for a campaign on election laws was the paramount question at this time, Governor Nes-tos replied, "That is why I suggest that you make preparations on the supposition that I will call an election in March at the presidential primaries."

The only other important matters considered during the morning were a statement presented by Theodore
G. Nelson, regarding the activities of the organization and a renewal of his request.

Committeemen devoted nearly the entire morning session to discussion of the election laws. Each man expressed the opinion of his district, each being of the opinion that the election laws could carry. All speakers declared that the Nonpartisan League is preparing for a vigorous fight against the election laws. The committeemen were of the opinion that the election should be held in March.

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 20.—Theodore
G. Nelson, chairman of the Independent Voters Association state executive committee, today presented his resignation to the state committee in session here, effective today.
In a statement Mr. Nelson said that he desired "to help all I can in the work that is ahead" and "I must,
however, decline to carry the responsibility that rests upon the chairman of this organization any longer."

In his statement he outlined several proposals for future political action in the state. He declared frequent elections add to hard times in North Dakota, and urged that terms
of state officials and congressmen
be changed to three years and that of President to six years with re-election prohibited. He also urged elections be handled in one instead of two primary elections, a half million dollars would be saved each year.

He urged that the various political organizations settle their internal questions without resorting to primaries, and that the primary system
be changed or abolished.

Fewer legislative sessions also were proposed. He suggested two sessions of the legislature in six years, to save $250,000 for each session eliminated.

Taxes should be reduced materially, he said, and the state mill and clevator given a fair trial.

He urged a house-cleaning of the state educational system so as to make its activity consistent with the fundamental principles upon which has been built the nation.

He praised the L. V. A. election laws, the record of the Nestos administration and questioned the efficacy of "fifty-fifty" bills under which the federal government pays half the expense of an undertaking of state-wide half.

He said that "by failing to include in their referendum, the law that repealed the old law prescribing what
the form of ballot shall be, the state will, if the referred laws are not approved, be without any law for carrying out its constitutional mandate requiring a uniform ballot over the entire state."

He pointed out to the executive committee that it is its duty to arrange for a state-wide nominating convention between January 1 and
May 1.

It is estimated that there are 100,000 strangers in New York every day.

PEACE REIGNS TEMPORARILY WITH ALLIES

Break Postponed by Method

MAY ACT LATER

If British Are Convinced of
Ill Treatment She Will Join French

Paris, Nov. 20.—(By the Associated Press)—After six days of negotiations, four meetings and five ad-journments the ambassadors council has hit on a compromise formula for dealing with Germany which even if it only postpones the evil hour of decision as many maintain, at least
front.

The feeling today was just as optimistic as it was pessimistic yesterday for the agreement to send a note to Germany has been fully endorsed by the French and Belgian cabinets and judges from the tone of London will be endorsed by the British.

It was believed here this morning that the agreement on the presented note in which the allies will demand that their military control officers shall be allowed to function under adequate protection would be completed today.

The accepted plan of action seems
to throw a considerable burden on General Nollet, head of the mission
who has been recalled to make a further report on the whole situation. If after a due interval General Nollet is convinced that the Reich authorities are disobeying the ambassadors' decision, he is stated that the British government will agree to consider the application of penalties provided they are of a non-territorial nature. This arrangement is regarded as at least good enough to furnish a basis for the continuance of the negotiations.

Dr. Havenstein Fought For Sound Currency

Berlin, Nov. 20.—(By the Associated Press)—Dr. Rudolf Havenstein, president of the Reichsbank is dead.
He died this afternoon at 4 p. m.
Lord Crew, British ambassador, notified the secretary that his government owing to stress of business was unable to communicate his instructions in time for today's meeting. The instructions are expected to arrive in season for a meeting tomorrow.

Dr. Havenstein became president of the Reichsbank in December, 1907,
and director of the imperial German government's financing of the world war which was accomplished by a long succession of international loans.
After the armistice he represented
the Reich at various financial conferences with the allies, including the negotiations with the Bank of England for the guarantees demanded by Belgium.

When the mark began to fall, Dr.
Havenstein warned against the consequences of the collapse of the currency and emphasized the necessity of retaining the Reichsbank's gold reserve. His resignation was demanded but he retained his high position and worked toward the establishment of a Renten mark which was placed in circulation on a gold basis only a few days ago.

He was 66 years old.

KIDNAPED BOY IS DISCOVERED

New York, Nov. 20.—The body of Irving Pickens, four and a half years old, who was kidnapped from
in front of his Grand street home, October 26, today was found in the cellar of a Suffolk street tenement.

First reports to the police indicated that the boy had been slashed about the body but medical examiners later found that the marks which were placed in circulation performed on the boy shortly before his disappearance.

HAND AMPUTATED
McIntosh, Nov. 20.—Axel Skotvold was the victim of a very painful accident last Wednesday afternoon while working on a corn shredder at the T. A. Heistad farm north of town.
Mr. Skotvold's arm and hand was smashed so badly that it was necessary to amputate about four inches

AMENDMENT VOTE IS NOT REQUESTED

The time for filing petitions for vote on constitutional amendments
at the March, 1924, primary ended yesterday, without any such petitions being filed with the secretary of state.

MOVEMENT FOR THIRD PARTY IS UNDER WAY

Convention in Twin Cities to Name Candidates

INVITE ALL GROUPS

Would Name Candidate For
President and Candidate for
Vice-President in 1924

Chicago, Nov. 20.—The third party movement set under way here by a meeting of representatives from progressive political organizations was given tangible form today with a call for a national convention to be held at either Minneapolis or St.
Paul, May 30, 1924, for the purpose
of naming presidential and vice presidential candidates in the name of the Progressive party, Farmer-Labor party or such other name as the third party voters may have established in their state.

The attending gathering here pledged themselves "that the calling
of this convention shall be based upon the abolition of special privileges."

They described special privileges
as meaning "the unjust economic advantage by possession of which a small group controls our natural resources, transportation, industry and credit, stifles competition, prevents opportunity for development of the land and thus dictates conditions under which we live."

An invitation to join in the movement was extended to "all progressives and all progressive organizations, partisan or nonpartisan" which
are in accord with the principles herein set forth.

The platform of principles set forth by the Chicago meeting called among other things for "public control of natural resources by taxation
of all land values, public ownership
of railroads, canals and pipe lines, governmental banking by which the system reserving to itself the sole right to issue currency and to determine the amount of currency
which may be issued and equal rights economic, legal and political, for all citizens and all civil rights, including free speech, free press and peaceable assembly guaranteed by the constitution."

A resolution was adopted calling for the appointment of five to cooperate with "and assist progressive members of Congress to draw up bills and amendments having for their special object the achievement of the purposes declared in the platform."

Action of a progressive meeting held in St. Paul last week in selecting J. A. Hopkins of the committee of 38 and Dorr H. Carroll of North Dakota as official representatives of the organization composing the Chicago conference on the national committee was endorsed.
Those who signed the resolutions included William Mahoney, member state committee Farmer-Labor party,
Minnesota; Alice L. Daley and Tom Ayres, Farmer-Labor party of South Dakota.

Had Withdrawn Walton, having withdrawn from the hearing Saturday after denouncing the court for what he declared was the unfairness in the proceedings was not represented by counsel at the final session of the trial except for the filing of the new trial motion and the defense presented no evidence.

A statement is expected from the defense today. Walton last night angrily refused to comment on the action of the court.

Lieutenant Governor M. E. Trapp, who has been acting executive since Walton's suspension before his trial and who automatically becomes governor with Walton's removal, declared he would address the legislature within the next two or three days.

PAY STATIONS ARE INSTALLED

Telephone Company Takes
Step to Meet Patrons'
Demands

The North Dakota Independent
Telephone Company is today installing Public Paystations at convenient locations in Bismarck in order to satisfy a demand for this kind of service from transients and non-subscribers. By providing this service, the Telephone Company feels that the business people who are now furnishing this service free of charge
will be relieved from extending the use of their telephones both for local and long distance service to the general public and the public will be able to make use of the public stations, knowing that they are not imposing upon the business people.

These stations will be especially convenient for transients in placing their long distance calls and particularly so in completing calls to Mandala.

It is the intention to place public paystations in drug and stationary stores, and at such other locations as conditions may seem to necessitate.

The Indian population of the United States is $40,817 and is increasing each year.

EXECUTIVE TO CARRY FIGHT TO U. S. COURT

in Oklahoma Votes Gov-

REMOVED FROM OFFICE

Lieutenant Governor, Who Succeeds Him, Plans to Address the Legislature

Oklahoma City, Nov. 20.—(By the
A. P.)—A state senate reiterating his determination to continue the fight was issued here today by J. C. Walton, who was removed from office as governor last night by a senate court of impeachment.

"Only the rats leave a ship in distress," the deposed executive asserted.
"Few have deserted me in this fight and the ship is not sinking. It is only the shadow they see in the water."

A. P.)—J. C. Walton's gubernatorial

Deposed by the verdict of a senate
court of impeachment yesterday
which found him guilty of charges of moral turpitude, corruption in office, neglect of duty and

HIGHWAY SHOP UNITS BURNED EARLY TODAY

WATCHMAN IS BURNED

plosion Follows, Is Report

Fire which originated early to-
and boiler room of the state highway shop units on the prison road
in the eastern part of the city. The loss is variously estimated from $15,000 to $25,000, no accurate estimate being possible at this time,
fully covered by insurance, according to state officials. Since the trucks which were burned were given to the state from the war department's war surplus the actual monetary loss to the state through the
fire is fully covered by insurance,
it is believed.

The fire started, according to Nightwatchman Matt Clooten,
when he struck a lantern against
a truck and it fell into a pile of gasoline. An explosion and fire followed, he said.

Two Nash quad trucks, one
three-fourths ton White truck, two
Ford touring cars, one five-ton
Holt tractor, $2,000 worth of machines and probably $1,500 of mechanics tools were destroyed in the fire. Two cars were taken from the building.

The city fire department responded and connected hose on
fourteenth street, after having to return for more hose to make the long connection. Numerous volunteers responded.

the open near the building, was
endangered by sparks but was moved
to a place of safety.

Three other buildings in the
shop unit were saved.

The first alarm came about 12:30 p. m. Mr. Clooten suffered severe burns on the left hand and about
the ears, and today was in St.
Alexis hospital. He said today
that he was in the office when he
and started back with a lantern to investigate. He said the lantern hit a truck and the explosion followed. He tried to open a door nearby but could not and then crawled along the
side wall to the office.

The building, a frame building
consisting of a former airplane
the front of it, and the boiler room
next to it, were leveled to the
in saving the other buildings.

Frank Hubbard, foreman, declared
the shops were kept clean and
time ago a representative of the war department told the state highway commission that North Dakota was taking better care of
surplus war material than any other state, he praising the shop system very highly in a report.
The thousands of dollars worth of trucks and parts from the war department. They have been repaired at the shops and set out to
counties and cities to be used on
road work, at actual cost, the plan
enabling the subdivisions to get
valuable vehicles for a few hundred dollars.

William Guttman, superintendent, and Frank Hubbard, foreman of the shop, who investigated the
broken lantern ignited the oil soaked
floor. There was no oil on the floor, he said, the floor being kept strictly free of such vessels at all times. The building, he added, was equipped with electric lights.

WHITE WAY TO BE LIGHTED FOR TEACHERS

The entire white way lighting system of the city will be lighted during the latter part of the week
when the state education association is in convention here. It was decided by members of the city commission in meeting last night.

The commission last night received a petition for installation of a sewer on Eleventh street, from Avenue D to the Boulevard, and had before it petitions for installation of
and near the Riverview school.

Washington, Nov. 20.—Forty-nine gallons of milk, 16.1 pounds of butter, and 3.8 pounds of cheese were
the average consumption of dairy products of each person in the United States during last year, statistics
show.

Use of these commodities showed
an increase over all previous years.
It is estimated that a little more than one-fifth of the total money paid for food last year was spent
for dairy products.

For the first time in many months, a president of the United States left the White House to attend a meeting. President Coolidge is shown here attending the first meeting in the capital of the Harding Memorial Association Board of Trustees. Seated, left to right: Edward B. McLean, Secretary of State Hughes, President Coolidge, Secretary Mellon, Secretary Weeks, and Secretary of the Navy Denby. Standing: James J. Davis, Army Gen. Daugherty, Brig. Gen. Sawyer, Senator Joseph Frelinghuysen of New Jersey, Governor D. R. Cressinger, Fred Upham, and George Christian.

Supreme Court Upholds Right
to Bar Aliens from Lands
in California

Washington, Nov. 20.—The Pacific coast states won a complete victory
in the supreme court yesterday in
their efforts to prevent Japanese
from acquiring any control over, or
interest in agricultural lands.

validity of the alien land laws under
which aliens ineligible to citizenship
were prohibited from owning or leasing agricultural land, the court today took the final step to make such legislation completely effective by holding that in the construction of such laws the intention of the state must be carefully considered
and that any transaction which
able contingency of giving such
lands equivalent to ownership and leasing must be construed as prohibited.

In testing out the alien land laws
of California and Washington, attacks were directed not only through proposed leases, as in the cases decided last week, but also through
"cropping" contracts and attempts
in companies authorized to buy and
sell agricultural lands.

While constitutional and treaty
questions as bearing upon the cases
were considered, nothing was found
by the court, Justice Butler stated,

Line From Fargo to Grand

The Red River Valley Railway
company, incorporated in Minnesota,
December 15, 1914, with its principal
offices in the McNight building,
Minneapolis, has filed an application
with the State Railroad Commission
for authority to issue 5,000 shares
of common stock, valued at $100 a share.

The company, according to its articles of incorporation, was incorporated to build a railroad from Fargo to Winnipeg, while in the application it is stated it is proposed
to build the road from Fargo to Grand Forks.

Minneapolis; R. A. Hamilton, Milwaukee; C. M. Drew, Minneapolis.

It is stated $25,000 of stock has been issued to date. It is proposed to sell stock to the amount of $297,- 500 for right-of-way, terminals, etc.; $58,000 for grading, and $134,500 for refunding money heretofore advanced and expended.

The Railroad Commission has taken
no action on the petition.

OLSNESS NOT TO INTERFERE

Commissioner of Insurance S. A.
Olsen says he will not intervene in a dispute between two large insurance companies. The commissioner was asked by individuals in the state to order all companies within the state and their representatives not to take any further steps to compel another company to withdraw from an agency,
and to revoke licenses for violation of the order. The attorney general's
has no power to revoke licenses from
such action.

Fargo, Nov. 20.—The Manitoba
liquor control act will hamper running across the border into the United States, if it permits any at all, according to A. A. Stone, federal prohibition director for North Dakota, who has returned from a visit to Winnipeg.

Mr. Stone and B. C. Boyd, a federal agent of Grand Forks, visited Winnipeg last week to see just how
the liquor control law was working
out.

"Under the control of the liquor control commission, sales are so restricted that the would-be runner can only buy his shipments piecemeal or else have a large staff of co-conspirators buying it for him," he said, in explaining the workings of the law.

"Under a ruling of the commission
one man may buy only one case of
hard liquor a day and this must be delivered to his residence. However,
if a man were to continue to buy a case a day for a period the officers
would probably become suspicious
and investigate him."

"It is illegal to move this liquor
from the residence where it was delivered and this portion of the law
is being enforced when violators are
the work of the run runners."

A hotel room is considered a temporary residence under the interpre-

THE WEATHER

For twenty-four hours ending at noon today.
Temperature at 7 a. m. 41.
Temperature at noon 48.
Highest yesterday 56.
Lowest yesterday 29.
Lowest last night 41.
Precipitation 0.
Highest wind velocity 16.

Weather Forecast
For Bismarck and vicinity: Partly cloudy tonight and Wednesday. Colder tonight.

For North Dakota: Partly cloudy tonight and Wednesday. Colder tonight and southeast portion Wednesday.

Weather Conditions
The low pressure area has moved to the northeastern Great Plains region and a high pressure area has appeared on the Pacific coast. Light
precipitation has occurred in the Canadian Northwest and over the
in Washington and Oregon. Temperatures are above the seasonal
normal in most sections, with mini-
above at many places over the Rocky
States.

Wilton, Nov. 20.—Mrs. R. C. Pr-avitz, of the city, died at Rochester, Minn., last week, where she had
been receiving treatments for the past two weeks. Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon. Mrs.
Pravitz had made her home in Wilson since 1912, where her husband is
station.

Chairman Milhollan Would
Have Representative of that

START ON THE CASE

Proposal that the Interstate Commerce Commission, through an examiner, and the state railroad commission jointly hear the cases involving the proposed increase in lignite coal freight rates, was on its way to Washington today. Chairman Milhollan, for the North Dakota commission, urged that the hearing
be held in Bismarck early in 1924.

The Esco-Cummins act provides for co-operation between state commissions and the Interstate Commerce Commission in hearing traffic cases, the North Dakota commission chairman said. The evidence in both the cases involving the rates from
points to points within North Dakota, pending before the state commission, and the case relating to an increase from points within the
state to points without the state,
pending before the I. C. C., will be similar in many respects. It is pointed out, too, that should the
state commission decline to increase lignite rates and the Interstate Commerce Commission order an increase,
the railroad could ask for an order from the national commission over-
ruling the North Dakota commission
on the ground that the state rates
were discriminatory toward interstate commerce.

Although the Interstate Commerce
Commission has suspended the proposed increase until April 4, 1924,
there is a strong possibility that an
early hearing will be ordered, because the case is on the suspension
docket, Mr. Milhollan said.

A conference with representatives
of the lignite operators will be held in the state this week by Mr. Mil-hollan. He said that the state commission has already started to investi-
the public utilities commissions, and
their rate experts, of Minnesota and
South Dakota has been pledged.
South Dakota is especially interested because the state has a coal mine
in North Dakota.

E. M. Hendricks of Aberdeen, S. D.,
engaged as traffic expert for the North Dakota body, will come on the
job here November 24. V. E. Smart, former traffic expert of the commission, will return from Missouri and it is likely that James Little, now
with the Nebraska commission, who was traffic expert for the North Dakota commission when the lignite
rates were made, will be called in.
Daniel Kelley, rate expert of the South Dakota commission, is preparing to attack the tariff filed by carriers.

Scores Conditions In Canneries

Anchorage, Alaska, Nov. 20.—Legislation compelling rigid examination of employees to be sent to Alaska for the salmon cannery season
was recommended in a federal grand jury report made recently to Judge
E. E. Ritchie at Valdez, Alaska. The
report recommended that prospective
employees should be examined at the port of embarkation to ascertain if any are drug addicts or afflicted with communicable diseases.

The report states that the use and sale of narcotics during the cannery season at Bristol Bay, Alaska, is rampant; that cannery workers suffering from social diseases in aggravated form were permitted to
work in packing fish; that degener-
acy was in evidence and quite common; that the carrying of revolvers
violence.

The United States flag is to be shortened about 18 per cent in order

ELECTION LAW VOTE MAY BE IN MARCH, '24

Governor Tells I. V. A. Conference in Fargo He Has

LAWS ARE DISCUSSED

Resignation as Chairman

Fargo, Nov. 20.—Declaring that he had not decided when he would
call an election on the election laws
passed by the last general assembly
upon which a referendum has been
petitioned but that he was mindful
of the fact that the legislature intended them to be submitted at the first state-wide election after their
adoption, Governor R. A. Nestos advised the central committee of the Independent Voters Association "to prepare immediately for contingencies."

The Governor's statement was
made shortly before the committee
recessed at noon today, following a round table discussion of the attitude on the election laws. He declared that he would call an election either at the presidential preference primary in March or at the general election in November. He said it was quite plain that the legislature
intended the laws to be referred at
the first election but that the 7,000
signers of the petition had asked for a vote in November. The only
question in his mind, he said, was whether the voice of the 7,000 signers or the voice of the legislature was to be heeded.

When informed it was the concen-sus of the committee present
that preparation for a campaign on
election laws was the paramount
question at this time, Governor Nes-tos replied: "That is what I suggest that you make preparations on the
tion in March at the presidential
primaries."

The only other important matters considered during the morning were
a statement presented by Theodore
G. Nelson, regarding the activities
his request.

Committeemen devoted nearly the entire morning session to a discussion of the election laws. Each man reported on the opinion of his district, each being of the opinion that the election laws could carry. All
speakers declared that the Nonpartisan League is preparing for a vigorous fight against the election laws. The committee members were of the opinion that the election should be held in March.

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 20.—Theodore
G. Nelson, chairman of the Independent Voters Association state
executive committee, today presented his resignation to the state committee in session here, effective today.

In a statement Mr. Nelson said that he desired "to help all I can in the work that is ahead" and "I must,
however, decline to carry the responsibility that rests upon the chairman of this organization any longer."

In his statement he outlined several proposals for future political action in the state. He declared frequent elections add to hard times in North Dakota, and urged that terms
of state officials and congressmen
be changed to three years and that
of President to six years, with re-election prohibited, and all primary election work handled in one instead of two primary elections, a half million dollars would be saved each year.

He urged that the various political organizations settle their internal
questions without resorting to primaries, and that the primary system
be changed or abolished.

Fewer legislative sessions also
were proposed. He suggested two sessions of the legislature in six years, to save $250,000 for each session eliminated.

Taxes should be reduced materially, he said, and the state mill and elevator given a fair trial.

He urged a house-cleaning of the state educational system so as to
make its activity consistent with the
fundamental principles upon which
has been built the nation.

He praised the I. V. A. election laws, the record of the Nestos administration and questioned the efficacy of "fifty-fifty" bills under
which the Federal government pays
half the expense of an undertaking
if the state pays half.

He said that "by failing to include
in their referendum, the law that re-
pealed the old law prescribing what
carrying out its constitutional mandate requiring a uniform ballot over
the entire state."

He pointed out to the executive committee that it is its duty to arrange for a state-wide nominating convention between January 1 and
May 1.

Break Postponed by Method

Ill Treatment She Will
Join French

Paris, Nov. 20.—(By the Associated Press).—After six days of negotiations, four meetings and five ad-jourments the ambassadors council has hit on a compromise formula for dealing with Germany which even if
it only postpones the evil hour of
decision as many maintain, at least
front.

The feeling today was just as optimistic as it was pessimistic yesterday for the agreement to send a note to Germany has been fully endorsed by the French and Belgian
cabinets and judges from the tone
of London will be endorsed by the British.

It was believed here this morning that the agreement on the proposed note in which the allies will demand that their military control
officers shall be allowed to function
under adequate protection would be completed today.

The accepted plan of action seems
to throw a considerable burden on General Nollet, head of the mission
who has been recalled to make a further report on the whole situation. If after a due interval General Nollet is convinced that the Reich authorities are disobeying the ambassadors' decisions it is stated that the British government will agree
to consider the application of penalties provided they are of a non-territorial nature. This arrangement is regarded as at least good enough to furnish a basis for the continuance of the negotiations.

MEETING POSTPONED

Paris, Nov. 20.—(By the Associated Press).—The meeting of the council of ambassadors called for 5 o'clock this afternoon will not be held, it was announced at 4 p. m.
Lord Crewe, British ambassador, notified the secretariat that his government owing to stress of business
was unable to communicate his instructions in time for today's meeting. The instructions are expected to arrive in season for a meeting tomorrow.

Dr. Havenstein Fought For

Berlin, Nov. 20.—(By the Associated Press).—Dr. Rudolf Havenstein, president of the Reichsbank is dead.

Dr. Havenstein's successor probably will be Dr. H. Schacht, currency commissioner of the Reich and managing director of the Darmstadt bank.

Dr. Havenstein became president of the Reichsbank in December, 1907,
and director of the imperial German
government's financing of the world
war which was accomplished by a long succession of internal loans.
After the armistice he represented
the Reich at various financial conferences with the allies, including
the negotiations with the Bank of England for the guarantees demanded by Belgium.

When the mark began to fall, Dr.
Havenstein warned against the consequences of the collapse of the
currency and emphasized the necessity of retaining the Reichsbank's gold reserve. His resignation was demanded but he retained his high
position and worked toward the establishment of the Renten mark which was placed in circulation on a
gold basis only a few days ago.

He was 66 years old.

KIDNAPED BOY IS DISCOVERED

New York, Nov. 20.—The body of Irving Picknelly, four and a half years old, who was kidnapped from
in front of his Grand street home, October 26, today was found in the cellar of Suffolk street tenement.

First reports to the police indicated that the boy had been strangled
about the body but medical examiner Norris later found that the marks were scars of an operation performed on the boy shortly before his disappearance.

AMENDMENT VOTE IS NOT REQUESTED

The time for filing petitions for
vote on constitutional amendments
at the March, 1924, primary ended
yesterday, without any such petitions being filed with the secretary of

MOVEMENT FOR THIRD PARTY IS UNDER WAY

Convention in Twin Cities

Would Name Candidate For
President and Candidate for
Vice-President in 1924

Chicago, Nov. 20.—The third party
movement set under way here by a meeting of representatives from progressive political organizations was given tangible form today with a call for a national convention to be held at either Minneapolis or St.
Paul, May 30, 1924, for the purpose
of naming presidential and vice pre-
the Progressive party, Farmer-Labor
party or such other name as the third
in their states.

Those attending the gathering here
pledged themselves "that the calling
of this convention shall be based upon the abolition of special privileges."

They described special privileges
as meaning "the unjust economic advantage by possession of which a
small group controls our natural resources, transportation, industry and
credit, stifles competition, prevents opportunity for development of all and thus dictates conditions under which we live."

An invitation to join in the movement was extended to "all progressives and all progressive organizations, partisan or nonpartisan, which
are in accord with the principles
herein set forth."

The platform of principles set
forth by the Chicago meeting called
among other things for "public control of natural resources by taxation
of all land values, public ownership
of railroads, canals and pipe lines,
governmental banking by which the
system reserving to itself the sole
right to issue currency and to determine the amount of currency
which may be issued and equal rights
economic, legal and political, for all
citizens and all civil rights, including free speech, free press and peaceable assembly guaranteed by the constitution."

A resolution was adopted calling
for the appointment of five to cooperate with Congress to draw up bills and amendments having for
their special object the achievement of the purposes declared in the platform.

Action of a progressive meeting
held in St. Paul last week in selecting J. A. T. Hopkins of the committees of the organization composing
the Chicago conference on the national committee was endorsed.
Those who signed the resolutions included William Mahoney, member
state committee Farmer-Labor party,
Minnesota; Alice L. Daley and Tom

Step to Meet Patrons'
Demands

The North Dakota Independent
Telephone Company is today installing Public Paystations at convenient locations in Bismarck in order to satisfy a demand for this kind of
service from transients and non-subscribers. By providing this service,
the business people who are now furnishing this service free of charge
will be relieved from extending the
use of their telephones both for local
and long distance service to the general public and the public will be able to make use of the public stations, knowing that they are not imposing upon the business people.

These stations will be especially
convenient for transients in placing
their long distance calls and particularly so in completing calls to Man-dand.

It is the intention to place public paystations in drug and stationery stores, and at such other locations
as conditions may seem to necessitate.

United States is 240,917 and is increasing each year.

in Oklahoma Votes Gov-

REMOVED FROM OFFICE

Address the Legislature

Oklahoma City, Nov. 20.—(By the
A. P.).—A statement reiterating his determination to continue the fight
was issued here today by J. C. Walton, who was removed from office as governor last night by a senate
court of impeachment.

"Only the rats leave a ship in distress," the deposed executive asserted.
"Few have deserted me in this
fight and the ship is not sinking. It is only the shadow they see in the water."

Deposed by the verdict of a senate
court of impeachment yesterday
which found him guilty of charges of
moral turpitude, corruption in office, neglect of duty and incompetence, his term of office as Oklahoma's fifth governor was broken off after little more than ten months' fighting sena-tional to the last.

But as his successor prepared formally to take over the reins of the government today Walton girded for a last desperate effort to retain the office by invoking the aid of the United States courts, clinging tenaciously to the plea that he has not been given a fair trial with the promise of more dramatics yet to come.

Next Move Tomorrow.

His next move will be made tomorrow when his legal staff appears before a federal judge here for a restraining injunction to enjoin the action of the court of impeachment.

This falling an appeal will be taken to the United States supreme court as a last resort, accompanied by a petition for a writ of supersedeas to declare him the incumbent until the tribunal is thrashed out before the tribunal. The deposed executive's original application was denied the day before the impeachment trial opened and observers see scant likelihood that the decision will be reversed after the hearing.

Neither is it probable, they say, that the United States supreme court will intervene should the local federal court affirm its previous ruling on the ground that it has no jurisdiction in the case. Walton's removal was decreed last night by the senate court after he had been convicted of 11 of the 16 impeachment articles on which he was prosecuted.

When the final vote had been taken chief of counsel for the executive laid an application for a new trial before the court which was promptly rejected. The court then adjourning until this morning when it was to consider a motion to assess all costs of the trial against the deposed governor.

SURVEY SHOWS LOSS OF GAS TO BE GREAT

Much of This Is Due to Negligence in Fields in the United States

OKLAHOMA WASTAGE BIG

Indications Are That From Fourth to Half of Gas Produced Is Lost

Washington, Nov. 19.—Losses of natural gas and oil, through flooding, seepage, waste and negligence in the various fields in the United States have been enormous, according to statements of the Interior Department based upon a recent survey by the bureau of mines.

While the oil and gas industry has progressed steadily and has been practically revolutionized during the 64 years of its existence, losses have been into untold millions of feet of gas and gallons of oil fuel. Flooding of oil sands by water have irreparably damaged entire oil and gas fields, the water trapping underground oil that probably never will be recovered. Water in an oil well increases lifting costs that many wells are abandoned before the normal recovery of oil and gas is obtained.

Corrosive waters attack casing and eventually eat holes in it. Operators in the Kansas Eldorado field alone expend thousands of dollars annually replacing casing, tubing, sucker rods and other equipment as destroyed.

Wild Well Losses—Although "blow-outs" and "wild wells" were formerly the greatest factors in the loss, modern equipment has made it easier to muzzle the unchecked flows. The old practice of allowing "gushers" to waste oil and gas unchecked until the force either was stopped by caving or decreased an appreciable amount has been done away with, but not before millions of dollars worth of the natural resources were lost. In the early days of the Cushing field in Oklahoma in 1912 and 1913, it is estimated 100,000,000 feet of gas was wasted daily. Large flowing wells which produced from 1,000,000 to 10,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily were allowed to flow, the operators only gathering the oil. Until recently no use was made of gas produced in the Cushing field. In the Wyoming and the daily loss was estimated at 42,500,000 cubic feet.

Total Gas Consumption—In 1912 the total amount of gas consumed throughout the country was 662,042,000 cubic feet, while the loss of casing-head gas alone was estimated at 141,000,000,000 feet in that year. It seems probable that from one-third to one-half of all the gas produced is wasted, the bureau's study showed.

Production of gasoline from natural gas was started in 1904 and while the amount recovered has increased by leaps and bounds yearly, it was estimated that since that year at least 2,500,000,000 gallons of gasoline have been wasted, or twice the amount recovered. More than 25,000,000 gallons of gasoline must have been lost in the Cushing field in Oklahoma, alone, during this time. From 20,000,000 to 40,000,000 gallons were lost in the Eldorado field.

Emulsions with water cause another great loss. Engineers estimate the production of "cut" oil in the Mid-Continent and Gulf Coast fields in 1920 and 1921 at about 100,000,000 barrels, while half of this was lost at an estimated waste of $100,000,000.

KIWANIS CLUB HEARS PLEAS FOR EDUCATION

American Education Weeks Is Observed by Club Meeting in Weekly Luncheon

American Education Week, being celebrated throughout the country this week, was observed by the Kiwanis club at the regular weekly luncheon of the organization today.

C. L. Robertson, who was chairman of the day, explained to members that American Education Week is sponsored by the National Education Association and the American Legion, and is held to emphasize the importance of education.

In introductory remarks Mr. Robertson said there is a difference in educational opportunities, and called attention to the difference he said exists even among counties within North Dakota. He remarked that while in one county the average length of the school year is more than eight months in another county the average length of term is something over six months.

Miss Minnie Nielson, state superintendent, told the Kiwanians that education has become a universal problem. She pointed to the difference in the wealth backing education, as between various communities and states, and said that this was the reason the Sheppard-Towner bill, which would provide for federal aid for education, was being supported by educationists. She declared that it was right and proper that a child living in a community of small wealth should receive the same educational opportunities as a child living in a wealthy community.

Miss Nielson told the Kiwanians of many incidents which happened at the world conference on education in San Francisco. She recounted that the delegates from China informed the conference that whereas in 1906 China had but a few thousand children in school there were over 7,000,000 in school last year. Another educator, she said, declared that Japan was making such a remarkable progress that America might in her complacency fall behind. She also said that there was a world-wide battle against illiteracy being made, and the cause of education advanced in all lands.

W. E. McCurdy, secretary of the North Dakota Education Association, which holds a three-day convention here this week, spoke briefly of the work of that body. He said that many had believed that the education association was simply a teachers' union, but said a study of the resolutions of the association for the last several years would prove that the association had always taken an unselfish stand, one which they believed best for the entire state.

The association has a definite program, he said, naming as some of the planks support of the Sheppard-Towner bill and a campaign for a Secretary of Education in the President's cabinet.

Art Collier of Fargo Kiwanis was a club guest. O. V. Rowan won the attendance prize. A nominating committee was named to prepare slates for the election of the club, to be held in four weeks.

E. B. Cox, as a director of the Association of Commerce, impressed upon the Kiwanians the fact that this is the first time Bismarck will have entertained the state teachers association. Generally, in the past, it has been in Fargo or Grand Forks. He declared it was up to everybody to welcome the teachers and show them real Bismarck hospitality.

EXPLAIN WILLS AND PROBATE LAW TO LIONS

Judge I. C. Davies Tells of Two Kinds in North Dakota

At the noon day luncheon of the Lions club at the Grand Pacific hotel today Judge I. C. Davies explained the two kinds of wills, the olographic and statutory, and the proceedings in handling an estate of a deceased person.

He explained that the olographic was one drawn up by the person himself in his own handwriting and to which there were no witnesses. In this he said there were no formalities in the execution. The Statutory will, it was explained, was one drawn up by someone else but signed by the maker in the presence of two witnesses who were told that the document they were signing was the will of the maker, and in turn signed by the witnesses in the presence of each other and of the maker.

Judge Davies said that it was always best to have a will written in simple language, for not infrequently when complicated it defeated the purpose at which the maker aimed.

After explaining the kinds of will to be made in the state of North Dakota, Judge Davies discussed the subject of guardianship and ward in connection with the

RECEIPTS FROM PANAMA CANAL SHOW PROFIT

Amount of Shipping Handled
Also Highly Satisfactory
For Fiscal Year

JAPAN SHOWS DECREASE

U. S. Made the Greatest Gains According to Report of
Gov. Morrow

Washington, Nov. 20.—Operations of the Panama Canal and auxiliary agencies during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1923, were record-breaking in volume both as to financial returns to the United States government and aid rendered world shipping. The annual report of Governor Morrow made public today, shows, from the financial standpoint, the canal netted a profit of $12,063,880 from all sources, excluding the Panama Railroad Steamship Line, as compared with $9,201,613 in the fiscal year 1922 and, traffic operations increased on a scale that has brought the waterway to a point of "rapidly overhauling the Suez Canal."

The net income from tolls and other miscellaneous receipts grouped under the head of "transit revenue" was $10,001,066 in 1923 as compared with $8,466,674 the preceding year. The net profits from auxiliary operations totalled $1,140,642 as against $323,259, while those conducted by the Panama Railroad Company excluding the steamship operations, showed a profit of $922,171 against a loss of $710,201 in 1922.

Transits Increase
Governor Morrow's report also shows that the number of commercial transits increased from 2,736 to 3,967; net tonnage from 11,417,450 to 17,908,199 and cargo tonnage from 10,884,910 to 19,567,875.

"The phenomenal growth of the past year," the report continues, "was not anticipated and is in a sense abnormal. It is due primarily to the development of oil fields in southern California, which has supplanted Mexico as the principal source of supply for the eastern seaboard of the United States. The movement of California oil through the Panama Canal began in October, 1922, and has increased with each subsequent month until at the close of the year (June 30, 1923) oil is furnishing 60 percent of the east-bound cargo and tanker tonnage in either direction is approximately as great as all other commercial tonnage combined."

Governor Morrow explains that it is problematical how long these heavy shipments of California oil will continue and points out that the possible discovery and development of new fields may raise the volume of traffic in that commodity to decline as rapidly as it grew. He adds that important contracts have been made, extending over long periods, and, at the present time he sees no indication of a slump.

Japan was the sole nation among the maritime powers of the world to show a decrease in its shipping through the canal in the fiscal year of 1923. All others shared in the increased traffic and sent a greater net tonnage through the waterway in 1923 than they did in 1922.

U. S. Shows Gain
"The United States made the greatest gains," the report says, "increasing from 1,095 vessels to 1,994 and carrying 56.5 percent of the cargo moving through the canal; British vessels 25.2 percent; Japanese 4.8 and Norwegian 3.6."

An analysis of the traffic through the canal by principal trade routes shows the most increase was in the United States inter-coastal trade. This traffic increased from 2,562,527 tons to 8,068,553.

"There is also a great increase," the report adds, "in trade between the east coast of the United States and the west coast of South America, cargo moving over this route in both directions increasing from 793,123 tons in 1922 to 2,954,523 in 1923. Chilean nitrates and iron ore and Peruvian oil were the most important single items in the total."

"The trade between the east coast of the United States and the Far East fell off from 2,031,487 cargo tons in 1922 to 1,909,285 cargo tons in 1923."

"The trade between the west coast of the United States and Europe showed a slight decline in cargo handled, which was balanced by an increase in the trade between Europe and western Canada. If the two sets of statistics are combined, as is logical, since vessels trading to the west coast of North America commonly call at both Canadian and United States ports and it is difficult to make an accurate segregation of cargo on the basis of the declaration."

TO DECIDE MEETING PLACE OF REPUBLICANS

This gentlemen is the compact little sub-committee of the Republican National Committee, which met in Washington recently to discuss and make recommendations as to where to hold the next convention. Left to right: Ralph Williams, Oregon; Charles D. Hille, New York; John T. Adams, national chairman, who is proxy for H. L. Remondet, Arkansas; William M. Butler, Massachusetts; and David Mulvane, Kansas, chairman of the subcommittee.

tions filed at the Panama Canal, then the cargo handled between the west coast of North America and Europe, both directions included, shows an increase from 2,558,794 tons in 1922 to 2,511,791 tons in 1923, or approximately 22 percent.

"The trade between Europe and the west coast of South America increased from 946,331 cargo tons in 1922 to 1,749,986 cargo tons in 1923.

"These are the important trades through the canal and account for 83.4 percent of all cargo handled. Of the minor trades, that between Europe and Australasia continued to decline, but there was an increase in the trade between the east coast of the United States and Australasia."

In reviewing the affairs of government in the Canal Zone during the last fiscal year, Governor Morrow says correspondence with the Republic of Panama was "exclusively of a routine nature." In the matter of the proposed treaty between the United States and the Republic of Panama, he adds:

"A general revision of the existing agreements between the United States and the Republic of Panama embodied in the Hay-Bunau Varilla treaty, the so-called Taft agreement and the interpretations that have been placed upon both, affecting the operation of the canal and the reciprocal rights and duties of the two governments, has been desired for some time by both and negotiations with that end in view are pending between the State Department of the United States and the Department of Foreign Relations of the Republic of Panama."

Red Cross Aid to Disabled Ex-Service Men Increasing

DISABLED VETERANS IN HOSPITALS RECEIVE INDIVIDUAL AID FROM RED CROSS WORKERS

Washington—Five years after the armistice ending the World War, reports of American Red Cross services in behalf of the men who wore the uniform of the United States refute any belief that conflict exists that the wounds of that conflict are nearly healed.

In urging an increase in membership enrollment during the Red Cross Roll Call opening on Armistice Day, Nov. 11, facts convincing ly supported by authoritative statistics are issued by the national organization showing that assistance was extended by the Red Cross to about 200,000 former service men and their families, and 62,806 instances of definite and specialized aid to men in hospitals were noted in the past year.

In all hospitals 31,193 soldier patients were registered, while from March to October 1923 44,845 treatments and 23,395 examinations. On Sept. 1 there were 73,276 former service men under going vocational training, all of which indicates that the Red Cross is supplementing the work of the government physicians and nurses by helping to make the patient contented, by allaying worry over his family, furnishing personal services and providing recreation and entertainment, has an increasingly large work to do in this paramount activity.

POLITICAL REMEDY HELD NOT SUFFICIENT

J. H. Rich, Federal Reserve Agent, Gives His Diagnosis of the Situation

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 20.—John H. Rich, Federal Reserve Agent for the Ninth district, in a discussion of the agricultural situation of the Northwest, declared that the peak of bad conditions has been passed, and that too much emphasis has been placed upon the few dark spots in the situation.

Mr. Rich gives conclusions he has reached as follows:

The conclusions I have reached with reference to this subject are as follows:

"1. The serious problems confronting farmers in the northwestern grain raising area are the product of economic causes and are not to be cured by political or legislative processes.

"2. The failures, foreclosures, and abandonment of land that have occurred are an inevitable part of a profound change and readjustment of the reactions of the market to the reactions of Civil War in western areas then devoted to grain. They will continue until they have run their course, although they have probably reached their peak.

"3. The future of agriculture in the northwestern grain raising area has not been impaired. It has not lost an appreciable percentage of its capable men. It has been undergoing a drastic purging process involving the elimination of the unfit, the deflation of excessive land values, the sound basis, the wiping out of farming operations on marginal lands, and changes in the type of production and agricultural methods, which are tending toward the establishment of the business upon a sound basis.

"4. Failures, abandonment of land, foreclosures, and other results of depression and distress in this area, have been given an emphasis out of proportion to their importance. The percentage of failure among the grain raising farmers is not greater than the percentage of failure of banks in the grain raising area, and is approximately the same as the mortality in commercial business within the same sections. The failure of those in farming looms only because the number is far greater than the number engaged in banking or other business activities."

Newlyweds Find It Difficult To Get Apartments

Paris, Nov. 20.—The lodging crisis is far from having passed in France. All newly married couples find it difficult to discover an apartment to suit them, even if they are prepared to pay a good price. Doctors and dentists are also among the sufferers as landlords having the possibility of choosing their tenants for those who are bound professionally by having a number of visitors.

This advertisement in an evening paper shows to what extent a young doctor may be driven to find a place to carry on his practice.

"Young doctor, unmarried, in position marry, wants one or two rooms in a family apartment in the district. Would pay a high price."

Con- quering Time

THE worth of a man is measured by his usefulness.

When many men are grouped to perform a common task for the common good they become an institution.

The same measuring rod applies to the institution as to the individual.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is an institution—a big institution.

It is big in size because it renders a big service.

Perhaps there is no phase of Standard Oil Company (Indiana) service which is more significant or more far-reaching in its benefits to man than the means it furnishes for the conservation of time.

It enables men to do the work of the world easier and in fewer hours.

It speeds up every phase of industry.

The manufacturer can produce more merchandise because Standard Oil products enable him to run his machinery at higher speed.

The farmer can cultivate more land and raise greater crops because Standard Oil products enable him to use power-driven farm machinery.

The doctor can see more patients because Standard Oil products have enabled him to substitute the automobile for the horse.

The salesman can display his wares to twice as many buyers by utilizing Standard Oil products and the automobile.

Standard Oil Company (Indiana) service lengthens man's three score and ten by increasing his capacity for accomplishment.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is proud of the part it has taken in furnishing the means for men to annihilate time and distance through controlled and directed effort.

It is proud of the fact that it has been able to benefit so many industries by taking so many products, varied and useful, from the single base—crude petroleum.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is proud of the leadership it has earned in the petroleum industry.

It is proud of its organization of 27,000 men and women through whose loyal, earnest efforts it is able to render such a superior service as to have earned the respect and confidence of the thirty million people of the Middle West.

RUPPRECHT IS FAVORED IN BAVARIA

Is Peace Loving Man and Has Confidence of People of Germany

So-Called Fascisti Elements Stand with Prince and He Stands by Them

Munich, Nov. 20.—Former Crown Prince Rupprecht is the chief reason why there will not be any hurried attempt to reestablish monarchical rule in Bavaria while all of the rest of the German republic is still under democratic rule.

All the Hitler and von Kahr who can be assembled in Munich apparently cannot induce Rupprecht to make a trial for the restoration of the Bavarian throne. He has no desire to repeat the performance of the late ex-emperor Karl in Hungary.

Rupprecht is a loyal Wittelsbach and would like to see the monarchy reestablished in Bavaria if he thought there could be any permanency to such a restoration.

But he has learned a lot about European politics in the 54 years of his life. He had a good record in the war, and came through it pretty well convinced that the days of the Hohenzollerns were numbered.

His first wife was a sister of the present queen of Belgium. After her death he became engaged to Princess Charlotte, of Luxembourg. But that engagement was cancelled before she succeeded her deposed sister as grand duchess. Rupprecht afterward married the younger sister of Grand Duchess Charlotte, the Princess Antonia.

But his experience in his military campaigns in Belgium and Luxembourg and the international complications which speedily arose when there was a prospect that the crown prince of Bavaria was likely to become the successor of the ruling monarch of Little Luxembourg gave him a pretty definite idea how the autocrats feel about the restoration of deposed monarchs of the central powers to their old strongholds.

In Peace Loving
Then Rupprecht, though a soldier, is actually a peace loving man. He enjoys living quietly, and is not at all fond of display and excitement. Rupprecht is the idol of the Bavarian public. Even the anti-monarchists have little to say against him. There is no other prince who can replace him in the affections of the Bavarian people. He has two sons, one of 21, and another about seven years younger, and several daughters. So the succession is well provided for and he can afford to await developments with patience.

The so-called Fascisti elements stand with Prince Rupprecht and he stands with them. They have no other candidate for the throne and he is too canny a politician to try being a king on a little island surrounded by an ocean, of democracy and standing under the shadow of unrelenting reparations.

France has made no efforts to encourage monarchism or anything else in Bavaria which might tend to the disruption of Germany. Many Bavarian leaders have been attracted by propaganda for an independent Bavaria. But Rupprecht very clearly does not forget that the German Empire did very well under the plans outlined by Bismarck, and is in no hurry to be the first king to make an attempt to smash up the German reich.

Coal Town in Central Pennsylvania Bituminous Mining Region Gives Idea of Advantages Enjoyed By Miners

This street scene is typical of a "coal town" in the soft coal region of Central Pennsylvania.

Roomy, comfortable, modern houses, surrounded by yards with plenty of space for a vegetable or flower garden, are rented for sums that must make the city dweller gnash his teeth with envy. As a rule, the coal companies own the houses, deliver coal for cooking and heating at a ridiculously low figure to the miners, wire them for electricity and supply current at low figures.

Miners make a good deal of money. A careful study of their earnings in comparison with 37 other industries was made recently and turned over to the U. S. Coal Commission. In every case the average daily earnings of miners were far and away superior to the average in all the other lines of work studied.

The streets of the "coal towns" usually are lined with automobiles. There are a number on the street shown, which is in a Consolidated Coal Company town at Gray, Pennsylvania. One of the requests of officials coming to coal company officials is to put up more garages. These the miners rent at figures varying from $1 to $4 a month.

the mine at Jerome, in the Central Pennsylvania region, administering first aid treatment to his dog, Dane. Young Jones seems to be laboring under the impression that something terrible has happened to his dog, judging from the medical paraphernalia scattered around on the ground, and the serious expression on the young man's face.

Dane has perfect confidence that he is in the hands of a good doctor, or else he doesn't take the impending operation very seriously. He hasn't even taken off his miner's cap, with the lamp on the front of it, such as all soft coal miners in this and other districts use when there is no danger from gas. It is an acetylene flame, reflected so as to throw a strong light for a considerable distance.

SUSPENDED SENTENCES ARE RAPPED

Judge Kneeshaw Declares Suspension Is No Help in Enforcing Laws

Grafton, N. D., Nov. 20.—Suspending sentences of violation of prohibition laws does no good and fails to act as a preventive, declared District Judge W. J. Kneeshaw in passing sentence here on 11 defendants who had been convicted of or had pleaded guilty to violating prohibition laws.

He imposed a sentence of 90 days in jail and a fine of $200 and costs of $25 on each of the following: John Johnson, Arnt Bratten, Henry Vold, Henry Schram, Frank Kosmatka, Walter Wosick, Ben Kukowski, Jake Klava, Ed Marcin, Frank Kysay and Frank Papenfuss.

In discussing his position regarding sentences imposed and their effect, Judge Kneeshaw said in part: "The violation of our prohibition laws must stop and the man who persists in breaking these laws must pay the penalty. No one who has pleaded guilty to a charge of making liquor or who has been convicted on such a charge can come before me and expect to get off with a suspended sentence. I have tried suspending sentences for violation of the prohibition law and I find that it does no good. Hereafter any man who comes before me convicted of a crime under our prohibition law must expect to go to jail and pay a fine."

Must Prevent Crime
The purpose of our criminal laws is to prevent crime as well as to punish the criminals. If sentence is suspended on a man who has violated the prohibition law, it fails to act as a preventive. On the other hand it is the man engaged in the unlawful business of making or selling liquor who knows that he must pay the penalty for his act if apprehended and convicted, he will be more apt to quit his unlawful practices.

"You men who have been engaged in this liquor business are doing your fellowmen a most grievous injury. The stuff which you have been making is a poison of the rankest kind and when you give or sell it to your fellowman you are giving him something that will wreck and ruin his body, mind and soul."

NORTH DAKOTA A. C. TEAM WINS

Takes First Place in the Stock Judging Contest

Fargo, Nov. 20.—Judging all kinds of beef cattle, horses, hogs and sheep in competition with teams representing 10 of the leading agricultural colleges of the central west, the North Dakota Agricultural college livestock team won first place at the annual stock judging contest at the American Royal Livestock show at Kansas City Saturday.

In addition four members of the team placed among the 10 high men of the 30 individuals competing. This is the second team representing the North Dakota Agricultural college that has won first place in a national stock judging contest in the past two years, the A. C. dairy team judging team making first place at the National Dairy show in St. Paul in 1922.

Agricultural judging teams either directly representing the A. C. of trained by officials of that institution have made a showing which is considered unusual by officials of the college, in the past few years.

At Kansas City Saturday, North Dakota ranked first; Kansas was second and Iowa third. Harry Anderson of Fairview, Mont., of the North Dakota team, was second among the individual contestants; Oscar Hanson of Valley City was fifth; Edward Eastgate, Larimore, sixth; Neil Coit, Englevale, N. D., ninth. Frank Gröndside of Cass Lake, Minn., was the other member of the team. Galen Odekerk of Fargo went with the team as alternate.

WHEAT TAKES UPWARD TURN

Liverpool Prices Are Firmer and Influences Others

Chicago, Nov. 20.—Selling based on denials that the United States government was contemplating relief work in Germany led to a decline in wheat prices today after an earlier advance. Close, easy, 1-3 to 3-8 cents net lower. May was $1.08.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—Owing to a large unexpected advance in Liverpool wheat here tended upward today in the early dealings. On the basis of altered rates for Sterling exchange December wheat at Liverpool showed an advance of 13-16 to 13-14 cents a bushel, compared with yesterday's quotations. Buying of all future deliveries here increased as a result. The opening which ranged from one-eighth to one-half cents higher, with December, $1.02 5-8 to $1.02 7-8, and May, $1.01 1-2 to $1.01 5-8, was followed by slight further gains.

(Established 1873)

MR. WALTON IS OUSTED
"Jack" Walton of Oklahoma is definitely out of office today. Mr. Walton probably will stay out. At the start of his dramatic onslaught against the Ku Klux Klan in Oklahoma, Governor Walton received wide commendation throughout the nation. He was talked of as a senatorial candidate in his own state and mentioned as a vice-presidential possibility. This was before he began to reveal himself in the proper light.

It cannot be said properly that his ousting is a victory for the Ku Klux Klan, and it is to be hoped that it will not be regarded as such. Governor Walton lost his mantle of self-righteousness when he began to usurp the constitutional powers of the state, when he revealed himself as a flamboyant and apparently unscrupulous politician without regard to the rights of others or the state's money, when questionable deals came to light and when it became apparent that he was not engaged so much in fighting for a principle as he was in fighting for a place in the spotlight.

Walton was elected as a radical. He proved to be a coarse politician. It is not surprising that he met his downfall. While he had in his hands the constitutional weapons afforded him in any just quarrel he might have had, he chose a more spectacular and less efficient means. It is a healthy sign for Oklahoma that her legislature—backed by the citizenship as shown in the referendum vote—put "Jack" Walton on the shelf; it will be a still more healthy sign if she will remove the blot which has been cast upon her by the charges that some of her citizens have succeeded in usurping the powers that Walton tried to usurp.

CALENDAR CHANGE
Should the calendar be changed so we'd have 13 months of 28 days apiece, with a "leap year" at the end of each year? A scheme like this is being advocated by the International Fixed Calendar League, members of which are busy all over the world.

They have a hard nut to crack. Their calendar, in addition to 13 months, would have a Friday the thirteenth every month. Nine-tenths of people are still too superstitious to take kindly to such an epidemic of thirteenthitis. Ask the hotel clerk, who has tried to rent room 13.

LAND WORSHIPERS
A real estate deal in New York City involves the sale of a strip of land 10 feet deep and one two-thirds of an inch wide. A surveyor made a mistake in Civil War days, and this tiny slice had to be bought to clear the title.
Our generation worships land rather than the golden calf. Land ownership is the keynote of our system of economics, also the foundation of a lot of our troubles. The speculative value of land in cities is created by the activities of people who work on the land or nearby, rather than by the owners.

TREE PROTECTION
John Davey of Ohio is buried. He was "the father of tree surgery in America." It takes years to grow a fine tree, and Davey performed a great service in teaching us how to prolong the life of the plant giants, especially shade trees.
Protect the old trees. Plant new ones, lots of them. Plant life alone has the power of transforming auto exhaust from poison gas to a harmless vapor. A tree by the auto road is an antidote.

ABILITY DESIRE TO DO
Anna Pavlova, probably the world's most artistic dancer, says the unusual—that no child has "talent." For instance, Pavlova claims that at eight years she had ambition but no talent. The talent was developed by hard work and intense study. Physical exercise, especially fencing, was among the things that CREATED ability.

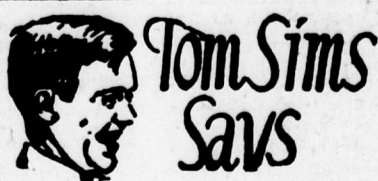

Ability, after all, is the desire to do and the willingness to labor to learn how. Exceptions are rare. There are exceptions, though Pavlova, speaking glibly, claims not.

INVENTION AND BRAINS
A flashlight, operated by a small storage battery and throwing its rays three-quarters of a mile, was invented in Boston. It's being adopted by fire departments, sewer diggers and so on. The whole outfit weighs only 12 pounds.
The best brains of our generation are engaged in invention and business. In former generations the top-notch intellects "went in for" the arts and government. That's why real artists now are scarce, and real statesmen scarcer.

DISLIKE GROWING-UP
Most movies are made to appeal to the 13-year-old intelligence, says Prof. Edward A. Ross of University of Wisconsin. Also true of fiction, sports, games of chance and nearly every form of relaxation or entertainment.
You have noticed how extremely childish the average person becomes when you put a paper carnival hat on him. We hate to be grown up, and we show it when we play.

NOTHING NEW
Many New Hampshire farmers are secretly using cosmetics, such as perfumes, hair oils, face lotions and powders. This is revealed at a gathering of New England druggists. They think they have discovered something new. But old-timers can recall that, in the days when drug stores sold drugs, the dandies of grandpa's day slicked their hair into shape with bear's grease and used perfumes liberally.
Every generation has its sheiks.

TOTAL SALARIES
Are you earning $35 for every $40 you received in 1920 at the peak of the boom? That's what's happening to the average American, claims the economist, Dr. David Friday. He figures that total wages and salaries in our country now are at the rate of 35 million dollars a year, compared with 40 million in 1920 and 31 million in 1921, when the poorhouse

That's why so many men want to be president. No worry about the rent money for four years then.

Being president really must be nice. You know your coal pile is going to last all winter.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Roberts Barton

Whitney Nose Squirrel was sitting on top of a fence in Dixie Land when the Twins came along. He was puffing his cheeks and sucking them in, and puffing his sides out and drawing them in in the most excited manner.
"I declare to goodness!" he panted. "I've tried and tried but I can't do it. I tried it off a tree and nearly broke my neck and I tried it off a bush and fell flat, and now I've been practicing off the top of this fence and it's the same thing over again. I've stubbed my nose and knocked out a tooth, and I'm bruised all over."

"What is it you've been trying to do?" asked Nick as he could get a word in edgewise.

"Fly," said Whitney Nose, much as though he were saying, "eat" or "sleep" or "run" or anything in the world that wouldn't take your breath away.

"Fly?" exclaimed the Twins in one breath.

"Yes," declared Whitney Nose. "I was trying to fly. I saw another squirrel do it, so why shouldn't I? I saw him fly from the top of a great big high tree right down to the ground like a bird."

"Are you sure?" asked Nancy. "Maybe it was a bird. Perhaps you didn't see right."

"Bird!" exclaimed Whitney Nose. "Well, it was a bird, it was a queer one; it had whiskers and a big bushy tail that curled up over its back and gray fur all over it. No, sir! It wasn't a bird any more than I am, and I haven't got a feather on me."

"At that very minute there was a 'Chirp! Chirp! Chirp!' right over their heads and right before their astonished eyes a fat furry figure floated down gracefully from the branch of a tree and landed on the ground."

"There! Didn't I tell you?" cried Whitney Nose dancing around on two legs.

"We were just talking about you!" said Nancy breathlessly to the newcomer. "We never knew that squirrels could fly! Where did you learn 'in a circus'?"

"Why, no! Nobody taught us," answered the curious fellow.

"Who is us?" asked Nick.

"My brothers and I. We always could."

"Fly up and let's see you do it again," Whitney Nose eagerly begged. "I could learn to fly like you."

The squirrel shook his head. "I can't do that," he said. "When want to go up a tree, I have to use my sharp claws and climb up same as you. I'll tell you a secret. I don't really fly at all! I jump! But the skin on my hind legs is joined to my sides in such a way as to make a sort of parachute and it lets me down easy. They do call us flying squirrels, but we don't fly at all."

"Wish I could!" sighed Whitney Nose enviously.
"My goodness!" said Nick. "You ought to be glad you can climb. What would you do if you were a tortoise or turtle?"
Whitney Nose laughed and ran off into the woods.

MRS. NAYLOR DIES OF CANCER

Mrs. Margaret Naylor, aged 41, daughter of Editor Frank Wilder of the Mandan News, died Saturday evening of cancer of the stomach in the apartment of her father in the Wilder building, following an illness of many months.

Mrs. Naylor had lived in Mandan since 1889. She was married to Charles Welch and later to James Naylor. The latter died last June. Four children, two by each husband, survive, besides her father, a brother and a sister.

Funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning from Christ Episcopal church.

Mrs. Naylor for many years conducted a photograph studio in the city and was widely known for her excellent work. She had a large circle of friends, who will regret to learn of her death.

Mrs. Anton Mann of St. Anthony, who has been a patient for the past eight weeks at St. Mary's hospital in Minneapolis returned today to the Deaconess hospital.

The Grocers and Missouri Valley team will meet this evening at the Regan alleys to decide which team will meet the Court House for the finals of the city league Wednesday.

Mrs. Fred Kotke left Saturday for Hathaway, Mont., to spend several weeks with her sister and aunt.

Mrs. Anna Stark has returned from Hebron and Glen Ullin, where she has been the guests of friends for several days.

E. H. Yoder of the Extension department of the North Dakota university will be the speaker of the evening at a big meeting planned by the Mandan Town Criers for tomorrow evening at the Lewis & Clarke hotel.

Miss Clara Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Johnson of southwest of the city, and Paul Bolling, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Bolling of Fort Rice, were united in marriage yesterday morning at the Lutheran parsonage, by Rev. C. J. Fylling, pastor of the church. Miss Cecelia Johnson of Mandan and Max Smith of Huff attended the couple.

Following the wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Bolling will make their home in Fort Rice.

The Mandan De Molay football team won its first game from Carson high school eleven Saturday by a score of 116 to 0 at the fair grounds gridiron.

A number of luncheons and bridge luncheons have been planned for two weeks' social activities. Mrs. C. D. Cooley and Mrs. J. R. Fitzsimons are joint hostesses at bridge luncheons today and Thursday, and Mrs. Frank Shafer and Mrs. Geo. F. Wilson will entertain at bridge luncheons the same day. Mrs. W. H. Stuteman was hostess at a luncheon at her home Saturday.

Professors were charging so hard when the arithmetic was signed they haven't been able to stop yet.

THE FOOL

By Channing Pollock.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Clare Jewett, in love with the Reverend Daniel Gilchrist, marries Jerry Goodkind for his money. Daniel is dismissed from the fashionable Church of the Nativity in New York because of his radical sermons.
A delegation of strikers comes north to interview the president and directors. An agreement which Gilchrist drew up for the miners is shown to Goodkind and Daniel gives the magnates 24 hours in which to sign.

"Overcast Hall," a refuge for the unemployed, is established by Gilchrist, and apartments with baths for the poor are maintained at a minimum rent. George Goodkind calls at the hall.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

"That's what I wanted to ask you. I'm in need of money and my father—"

"Your father understood you well enough to leave you only an income. I foolishly turned over some principal to you and you threw away $30,000. You could have had a big salary and you threw that away. You're an utter damned waster—if you're no worse."

"What do you mean—worse?" Daniel asked with a frown.

"You'll find out what I mean. You've had my son's wife down here, haven't you?"

"Once or twice."

"Or three times—or a dozen. He knows."

"I've asked her not to come again. And he's asked her—but she comes when she likes. She's in love with you—God knows what women see in your kind of a man. There was Pearl Hennig—"

"Please!" Gilchrist lifted a hand in protest.

"Oh, my son told me," continued Goodkind. "And I hear—in the neighborhood—that you're worse women than that running in here. Women of the streets!"

"Not many," said Daniel calmly. "They're welcome but they don't come."

"Well, that's your business. And if your neighbors get sick of having a reason of this kind in their midst, and drive you out, that's your business, too. But my son's wife—"

"Is her business," Daniel interrupted.

"And his," came back Goodkind. "Only Jerry's in no condition to settle the matter. He's broken down from worry and overwork and you're partly responsible. That puts it up to me. This is a final warning. If you see Clare again I'll act. That's all. Good night." He picked up his hat.

"Oh, Mr. Goodkind," Daniel woke, as if from a reverie. "How about the money?"

"You've had what's coming to you."

"But that's nothing. I pay half that for these houses and I've gone in debt fitting them up."

"With baths and tennis courts!"

"People must have baths."

"These dirty immigrants," Goodkind stormed.

"The dirtier they are, the more they need them," Gilchrist smiled. "I want to show them how to live—and show other people that you don't have to have a pig-pen to make a profit."

"Are you making a profit?" asked Goodkind scornfully.

"Enormous," answered Gilchrist enthusiastically. "And, to go on, I've got to have $22,000."

"Oh, is that all? scoffed the visitor. "You want $22,000 to go on making a fool of yourself. Well, you won't get it."

"Not even as an advance?" pleaded Daniel.

"Not a penny."

"Don't drive me to—!" Gilchrist panted.

"To what?"

"To ask for an accounting," said Daniel, rather at a loss.

Goodkind stared at him in amazement.

"Now, listen to me. I've stood all I'm going to stand. You've run amuck. You've become dangerous to yourself—and me—and the neighborhood. You're going to stop it, and you're going to stop it now."

"That's your mistake," said Daniel, still tranquil.

"Is it? A year ago you gave me 24 hours to sign a paper, and I did it, and it cost me $20,000. To-night I give you 30 minutes to shut up this place and quit seeing my daughter, and if you don't do it—"

"As I won't," said the unperturbed figure.

"I'll be here inside half an hour with a doctor."

"And then?" Gilchrist didn't understand.

"Then we'll file a petition to have you declared incompetent."

Goodkind banged his stick on the floor for emphasis, and started for the door.

"You don't mean that," said Daniel, helplessly. "You don't mean that because I'm trying to help—" the Pole who came to my house last year with a delegation?"

"Yes," said Umanski, quietly.

"Well, I'll be—!" Goodkind surveyed him in surprise.

"Mr. Gilchrist tell me stay in New York," the Pole explained. "He's teach me English and find me good job. I'm work eight hours on the docks and six on myself now."

Goodkind said nothing, just reached for the door. Gilchrist, idly filling his pipe at the mantelpiece, broke in.

"Mr. Goodkind!" he said. "Umanski has an invention. If you'll see it—"

"I'll see you in half an hour," came the answer and the door closed.

CHAPTER XVII
Cinderella

Umanski's eyes, which he hated they were his, but still steady and serious, had been turned intently on Goodkind as he talked.

"What's he doing down here?" asked Umanski with certain anxiety.

"He says I'm crazy and he's going to shut up this place." Daniel smiled as he dropped into a chair with the relaxation of one tired. "Of course, he won't."

"Don't be too sure," said the Pole thoughtfully.

"Nonsense," returned Gilchrist. "I made him angry. And somebody told him a lot of lies."

"Somebody's told a good many people lies," said Umanski. "Yesterday I heard a man say you run this place—to—to—get women."

"Who said that?" Daniel looked up seriously.

"A woman named Malduca."

"Oh, yes," Daniel relaxed again. "I took his daughter in here once, for a week, until he got sober."

"There's a good many like that," pursued the other.

"Not so many."

"Enough to make trouble. Why not, carry a pistol?"

"It's generally men with pistols who get shot," said Gilchrist with quiet rejection.

"One of them fellows get you—"

Gilchrist put him off with a gesture as Mary Margaret came into the room.

"I suppose you ain't had any supper," she said with a motherly air. Grubby had followed her in with a tray and the girl, leaning on her crutches, transferred its cargo to the table in front of Daniel.

Umanski drew out a pocketbook and came alongside.

"I brought you some money," he said. "My boss he give me another raise. He gonna make me boss after a while. So I like to begin to pay back what you lend me."

Gilchrist waved him aside.

"Wait till you've sent for your family," he said, making no move to accept the proffered bills.

"I'm gonna send now," said Umanski, smiling. "My boy I'm gonna send school—college, maybe. That pump I make goes fine. I show my boss like you say, because he know about coal mines, and he say if she work she save whole lots of lives and money. She work all right." He dropped the bills on the table and brought forth an English grammar from under his coat. "How about I go upstairs and study?"

"Sure," said Gilchrist. "Go right up to my room and I'll be along later, the meeting." Umanski left Mary Margaret bending over him eagerly.

"What's this we're wearing, golden slippers?" he queried, looking up at her.

"Supper with Cinderella," he said with a sweeping invitational gesture.

"Gee, I love that story," the girl said plaintively. "When you tell it to me, you make me believe I'm her." She was a wistful figure, a Cinderella on crutches, a beggar of life, but quite content to ride upon wishes.

"If you believe it—you are," said Gilchrist firmly.

She looked at him pensively. "I guess believin' ain't never goin' to make me dance," she said.

"You can't tell," he said, "—if you believe hard enough."

"That's what you said before, and I've tried, but somehow it don't work."

Eckert-Wald Join In Matrimony

Miss Johanna M. Wald of Strasburg became the bride of Joseph Eckert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Eckert, 211 Twelfth street South, yesterday morning at 7 o'clock at St. Mary's school chapel. Father Slag read the marriage service. Attending the couple were Joseph Schneider and Miss Eliza Small. Following the marriage ceremony an elaborate wedding breakfast was served at the Eckert home and this was followed by a wedding dinner attended by about 100 friends of the couple in the evening. Decorations about the Eckert home were carried out with an abundance of flowers and streamers.

Mr. Eckert has resided in Bismarck for a number of years and is a well known painter. They expect to leave in a short time to spend a week at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Eckert will make their home in Bismarck.

Dorothy Cole Co. Appears Tonight

The Dorothy Ellen Cole company will appear in concert at the Presbyterian church this evening at 8 o'clock. Miss Bertha E. Palmer who heard the entertainers last week reports that they are something out of the ordinary, particularly Miss Cole who is exceptionally fine in the delineation of character. Miss Palmer said that she gave a number of these character portrayals and that each one stood out as distinct.

The Lyceum entertainers come to Bismarck under the auspices of the Women's Community Council, and any funds above the expenses from obtain the entertainment will be used in helping to carry on the work of the council.

Edward Shank will appear as the third number on the Lyceum program, Dec. 18.

Selecting Cast For Legion Play

Selections for the various roles in the cast of "Oh, Oh, Oh!" the big musical show which is to be staged here at the Auditorium theatre under the auspices of the American Legion have been progressing rapidly. Bismarck is being secured for the best dramatic and musical talent; and, from the success reported by the talent committee, the show promises to be the best of its kind ever produced here.

The professional director, sent here by the John B. Rogers Producing Company, is expected to arrive about Nov. 22, at which time the actual rehearsals will begin.

TO LEGION AUXILIARY MEETING
Mrs. S. Tapp left this morning for Fargo to attend a meeting of the executive committee of the North Dakota American Legion Auxiliary which will be held today at the department headquarters. Other members of the executive board attending are: Miss Abbie Harley, Fargo; president; Mrs. W. E. Truman,

Small, Close-Fitting Turbans Popular for Mid-Winter Wear

By JULIA BOTTOMLEY

There may be little difference between a fall hat and a winter hat so far as material and trimmings are concerned, but there is considerable difference in the way materials and trimmings are used. Styles do not stand quite still and mid-winter millinery, now being shown, differs from that of early September, even though the velvet, batters' plush and patric of the first fall hats are just as extensively used now.

In the latest hats, metal cloths, gold and silver laces, metallic flowers and fur trimmings of various sorts make their appearance. Lines, too, have changed a little and small close-fitting turbans, of velvet, with deep sectional crowns are coming into prominence. Novel trim treatments are seen and colors become brighter to compensate for the more sedate tones of winter wraps. In hats for formal evening wear the large picture hat of velvet or batters' plush is still prominent, but it has been supplemented by clever little dance hats of silver or gold braid and by evening bandeaux in the form of wide metallic ribbon or wreaths of metallic leaves.

Four examples of the later millinery are shown in the illustration. The hat at the top has a cuff trim embroidered with chenille in bright colors. The crown is of brown velvet made in sections and piped with silk in the same color. At the right an extremely new shape takes the form of a batters' plush "topper" and is trimmed with a huge cascade of gold braid and monkey fur. The two hats below show the use of metal cloth, gold lace and metallic flowers and velvet on hats for dressy wear. In both of these the sectional crown and narrow velvet trim are featured.

AT THE MOVIES

THE ELYNGE
Don't take yourself too seriously. Constance Talmadge gives this advice free of charge.

There's a lesson for all women in the entire comedy of manners, "Dulcy," the lovely New York stage success, in which Constance Talmadge has been filmed and which shows at the Elynges ednesday and Thursday.

After reading over her role and observing the critical model which Dulcy, the feather-brained young wife who takes herself too seriously, makes of things, Constance said: "After going through that nightmare of self-meant mistakes I've learned my lesson. I don't think I'll ever take myself too seriously again."

Others in the cast of "Dulcy" are Jack McHall, Claude Gillingwater, May Wilson, Frederick Zamelton, Johnny Barron, Anna Cornwall, Andre de Berger, Gilbert Douglas and Milla Davenport.

Undoubtedly the greatest picture in which Jackie Coogan has been permitted to use his remarkable genius is Metro's "Long Live the King," now the feature at the Capitol theater. Last night its premier in this city was attended by a great and appreciative audience which through the evening continued to give ample evidence of the tremendous popularity which Jackie now has at his company. In fairness to him it is such beautiful and impressive productions as "Long Live the King" that enhance his popularity and make him more beloved.

The story of "Long Live the King" is a familiar one to readers of American books. It is a screen version of the famous novel of the

Eaten regularly each day, Kellogg's Bran will permanently relieve constipation; it will free you from dangerous toxic poisons that lead to 80% of all human illness; it will remove the cause and sweeten a bad breath; it will clear a pimply complexion; it will strengthen the bowels. In fact, Kellogg's Bran, through its natural action as a bulk, indigestible agent, will tone-up the whole system!

If you know exactly what constipation means from a medical viewpoint you would lose no time eating Kellogg's Bran yourself and serving it daily to your family. And, Kellogg's is actually delicious. Its nut-like flavor adding greatly to the enjoyment of eating cereals. Eat at least two table-spoonfuls each day; in chronic cases, with each meal.

There are many attractive ways to serve Kellogg's Bran. Eat it in winter with hot milk as a cereal. Or, mix it with cereals before serving. Many housewives cook it with cereals, in each case adding two table-spoonfuls for each portion. You will also enjoy the nut-like flavor of Kellogg's Bran when it has been sprinkled over hot or cold cereals.

You have missed some of the joys of life if you have not eaten raisin bread, muffins, griddle cakes, etc., made with Kellogg's Bran. Recipes are printed on each box.

Don't delay your fight against constipation; don't lose a minute in the great battle against illness! You can buy Kellogg's Bran from all grocers and you can have it served in individual packages at first-class hotels, restaurants and clubs.

AT THE MOVIES

THE ELTINGE
Don't take yourself too seriously. Constance Talmadge gives this advice free of charge.

There's a lesson for all women in the satiric comedy of manners, "Dulcy," the timely New York stage success, in which Constance Talmadge has been filmed and which shows at the Eltinge ednesday and Thursday.

After reading over her role and observing the critical muddle which Dulcy, the feather-brained young wife who takes herself too seriously, makes of things, Constance said: "After going through that night-mare of well meant mistakes I've learned my lesson. I don't think I'll ever take myself too seriously again."

Others in the cast of "Dulcy" are Jack Mulhall, Claude Gillingwater, May Wilson, Frederick Esmelton, Johnny Harron, Anne Cornwall, Andre de Beranger, Gilbert Douglas and Milla Davenport.

Undoubtedly the greatest picture in which Jackie Coogan has been permitted to use his remarkable genius is Metro's "Long Live the King," now the feature at the Capitol theater. Last night its premier in this city was attended by a great and appreciative audience which through the evening continued to give ample evidence of the tremendous popularity which Jackie now has at his command. In fairness to him it is such beautiful and impressive productions as "Long Live the King" that enhance his popularity and make him more beloved.

The story of "Long Live the King" is a familiar one to readers of American books. It is a screen version of the famous novel of the same name written several years ago by Mary Roberts Rinehart and which attained a tremendous sale. It hinges around the romantic adventures of the little Crown Prince of Lavonia—a country threatened at every turn by revolution and anarchy. It is a highly exciting romance and the producers have not only lost none of the fascination of the novel, but have added to its delight by giving it a wonderfully beautiful presentation.

Eaten regularly each day, Kellogg's Bran will permanently relieve constipation; it will free you from dangerous toxic poisons that lead to 80% of all human illness; it will remove the cause and sweeten a bad breath; it will clear a pimply complexion through its work on the bowels. In fact, Kellogg's Bran, through its natural action as a bulk, indigestible agent, will tone-up the whole system!

If you know exactly what constipation means from a medical viewpoint you would lose no time eating Kellogg's Bran yourself and serving it daily to your family. And, Kellogg's is actually delicious. Its nut-like flavor is adding greatly to the enjoyment of eating cereals. Eat at least two table-spoonfuls each day; in chronic cases, with each meal.

There are many attractive ways to serve Kellogg's Bran. Eat it in winter with hot milk as a cereal. Or, mix it with cereals before serving. Many housewives cook it with cereals, each case adding two tablespoonfuls for each person. You will also enjoy the nut-like flavor of Kellogg's Bran when it has been sprinkled over hot or cold cereals.

You have missed some of the joys of life if you have not eaten raisin bread, muffins, griddle-cakes, etc., made with Kellogg's Bran. Recipes are printed on each box.

Don't delay your fight against constipation; don't lose a minute in the great battle against illness! You can buy Kellogg's Bran from all grocers and you can have it served in individual packages at first-class hotels, restaurants and clubs.

 (Established 1873)

MR. WALTON IS OUSTED
 "Jack" Walton of Oklahoma is definitely out of office today. Mr. Walton probably will stay out. At the start of his dramatic onslaught against the Ku Klux Klan in Oklahoma, Governor Walton received wide commendation throughout the nation. He was talked of as a senatorial candidate in his own state and mentioned as a vice-presidential possibility. This was before he began to reveal himself in the proper light.

It cannot be said properly that his ousting is a victory for the Ku Klux Klan, and it is to be hoped that it will not be regarded as such. Governor Walton lost his mantle of self-righteousness when he began to usurp the constitutional powers of the state, when he revealed himself as a flamboyant and apparently unscrupulous politician without regard to the rights of others or the state's money, when questionable deals came to light and when it became apparent that he was not engaged so much in fighting for a principle as he was in fighting for a place in the spotlight.

Walton was elected as a radical. He proved to be a coarse politician. It is not surprising that he met his downfall. While he had in his hands the constitutional weapons afforded him in any just quarrel he might have had, he chose a more spectacular and less efficient means. It is a healthy sign for Oklahoma that her legislature—backed by the citizenship as shown in the referendum vote—put "Jack" Walton on the shelf; it will be a still more healthy sign if she will remove the blot which has been cast upon her by the charges that some of her citizens have succeeded in usurping the powers that Walton tried to usurp.

 Should the calendar be changed so we'd have 13 months of 28 days apiece, with a "leap year" at the end of each year? A scheme like this is being advocated by the International Fixed Calendar League, members of which are busy all over the world.

They have a hard nut to crack. Their calendar, in addition to 13 months, would have a Friday the thirteenth every month. Nine-tenths of people are still too superstitious to take kindly to such an epidemic of thirteenthitis. Ask the hotel clerk, who has tried to rent room 13.

LAND WORSHIPERS
 A real estate deal in New York City involves the sale of a strip of land 10 feet deep and one two-thirds of an inch wide. A surveyor made a mistake in Civil War days, and this tiny slice had to be bought to clear the title.
 Our generation worships land rather than the golden calf. Land ownership is the keynote of our system of economics, also the foundation of a lot of our troubles. The speculative value of land in cities is created by the activities of people who work on the land or nearby, rather than by the owners.

TREE PROTECTION
 John Davey of Ohio is buried. He was "the father of tree surgery in America." It takes years to grow a fine tree, and Davey performed a great service in teaching us how to prolong the life of the plant giants, especially shade trees.
 Protect the old trees. Plant new ones, lots of them. Plant life alone has the power of transforming auto exhaust from poison gas to a harmless vapor. A tree by the auto road is an antidote.

 Anna Pavlova, probably the world's most artistic dancer, says the unusual—that no child has "talent." For instance, Pavlova claims that at eight years she had ambition but no talent. The talent was developed by hard work and intense study. Physical exercise, especially fencing, was among the things that GREATER ability.
 Ability, after all, is the desire to do and the willingness to labor to learn how. Exceptions are rare. There are exceptions, though Pavlova, speaking glibly, claims not.

 A flashlight, operated by a small storage battery and throwing its rays three-quarters of a mile, was invented in Boston. It's being adopted by fire departments, sewer diggers and so on. The whole outfit weighs only 12 pounds.
 The best brains of our generation are engaged in invention and business. In former generations the top-notch intellects "went in for" the arts and government. That's why real artists now are scarce, and real statesmen scarcer.

DISLIKE GROWING-UP
 Most movies are made to appeal to the 13-year-old intelligence, says Prof. Edward A. Ross of University of Wisconsin. Also true of fiction, sports, games of chance and nearly every form of relaxation or entertainment.
 You have noticed how extremely childish the average person becomes when you put a paper carnival hat on him. We hate to be grown up, and we show it when we play.

NOTHING NEW
 Many New Hampshire farmers are secretly using cosmetics, such as perfumes, hair oils, face lotions and powders. This is revealed at a gathering of New England druggists. They think they have discovered something new. But old-timers can recall that, in the days when drug stores sold drugs, the dandies of grandpa's day slicked their hair into shape with bear's grease and used perfumes liberally.
 Every generation has its sheiks.

TOTAL SALARIES
 Are you earning $35 for every $40 you received in 1920 at the peak of the boom? That's what's happening to the average American, claims the economist, Dr. David Friday. He figures that total wages and salaries in our country now are at the rate of 35 billion dollars a year, compared with 40 billion in 1920 and 81 billion in 1921, when the poorhouse was in sight.

Germany is sick. There is no doubt about that. And the only thing for her to do is to take her medicine.

The German mark is so low now it is about as useless on earth as a female impersonator.

We can all be thankful that frost isn't snow and snow isn't hail and hail isn't as big as hen's eggs.

Holidays are useful. The checks you cash on a holiday can't reach the bank until the next day.

An egg laying contest was held in Petaluma, Calif. Luckily for the hens, no fies were entered.

Girl missing from Pasadena, Calif., was found at Indio, Calif., feeling as blue as indigo.

Coolidge, they say, is the best dressed man in Washington. He can be because he doesn't pay rent.

That's why so many men want to be president. No worry about the rent money for four years then.

Being president really must be nice. You know your coal pile is going to last all winter.

Another fine thing about being president is the man can't come out and turn off your gas.

St. Louis man got into trouble marrying two wives. Only one got into trouble marrying only one.

Making money is easy. Making more money is the hard thing.

A girl of 21 recently married a bachelor of 88, but any girl of 21 could have done that.

It is estimated that handshaking done in any one election would pump two million gallons of water.

The former crown prince is back in Germany. But he doesn't brag so very much about his old man.

A professional saxophone player is not the worst thing on earth. There are many amateurs.

Safety first. Look out for trains this winter while picking up coal along the railroad tracks.

Whitey Nose Squirrel was sitting on top of a fence in Dixie Land when the Twins came along. He was puffing his cheeks and sucking them in, and puffing his sides out and drawing them in in the most excited manner.

"I declare to goodness!" he panted. "I've tried and tried but I can't do it. I tried it off a tree and nearly broke my neck and I tried it off a bush and fell flat, and now I've been practicing off the top of this fence and it's the same thing over again. I've stubbed my nose and knocked out my teeth and I've bruised all over."

"What is it you've been trying to do?" asked Nick as soon as he could get a word in edgewise.
 "Fly," said Whitey Nose, much as though he were saying, "eat" or "sleep" or "run" or anything in the world that wouldn't take your breath away.
 "Fly?" exclaimed the Twins in one breath.

"Yes," declared Whitey Nose. "I was trying to fly. I saw another squirrel do it, so why shouldn't I? I saw him fly from the top of a great big high tree right down to the ground like a bird."

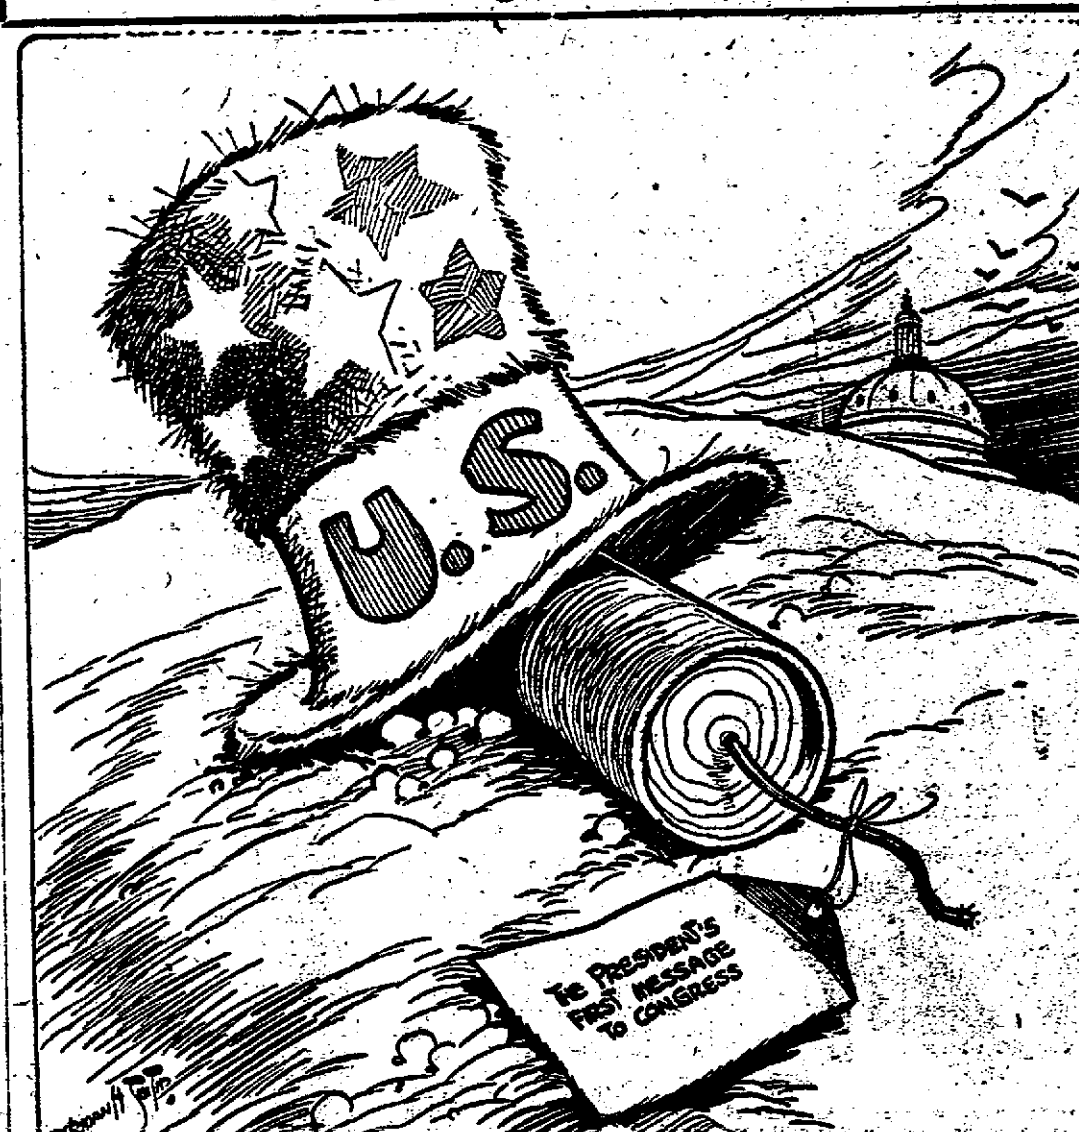

"Maybe he was a bird. Perhaps you didn't see right."
 "Bird?" exclaimed Whitey Nose. "Well, if it was a bird, it was a queer one; it had whiskers and a big bushy tail that curled up over its back and gray fur all over it. No, sir! It wasn't a bird any more than I am, and I haven't got a feather on me."

At that very minute there was a "Chirp! Chirp! Chirp!" right over their heads and right before their astonished eyes a fat furry figure floated down gracefully from the branch of a tree and landed on the ground.
 "There! Didn't I tell you?" cried Whitey Nose dancing around on two legs.

"We were just talking about you!" said Nancy breathlessly to the newcomer. "We never knew that squirrels could fly! Where did you learn to do it?"
 "Why, no! Nobody taught us," answered the curious fellow.
 "Who is us?" asked Nick.
 "My brothers and I. We always could fly."

"Fly up and let's see you do it again," said Whitey Nose eagerly. The squirrel shook his head. "No, I can't do that," he said. "When I want to go up a tree, I have to use my sharp claws and climb up same as you. I'll tell you a secret. I don't really fly at all! I jump! But the skin on my hind legs is joined to my sides in such a way as to make a sort of parachute and it lets me down easy. They do call us flying squirrels, but we don't fly at all!"

How High Will It Go?

 "What a could!" sighed Whitey Nose seriously.
 "My goodness!" said Nick. "You ought to be glad you can climb. What would you do if you were a toad or turtle?"
 Whitey Nose laughed and ran off into the woods.

MRS. NAYLOR DIES OF CANCER

Mrs. Margaret Naylor, aged 41, daughter of Editor Frank Wilder of the Mandan News, died Saturday evening of cancer of the stomach at the Mandan hospital following an illness of many months.
 Mrs. Naylor had lived in Mandan since 1889. She was married to Charles Welch and later to James Naylor. The latter died last June. Four children, two by each husband, survive, besides her father, a brother and a sister.
 Funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning from Christ Episcopal church.
 Mrs. Naylor for many years conducted a photograph studio in the city and was widely known for her excellent work. She had a large circle of friends, who will regret to learn of her death.

Mrs. Anton Mann of St. Anthony, who has been a patient for the past eight weeks at St. Mary's hospital in Minneapolis returned today to enter for further treatment at the Deaconess hospital.

The Greeters and Missouri Valley team will meet this evening at the Began alleys to decide which team will meet the Court House for the finals of the city league Wednesday.

Mrs. Fred Koetke left Saturday for Hathaway, Mont., to spend several weeks with her sister and aunt.

Mrs. Anna Stark has returned from Hebron and Glen Ullin, where she has been the guests of friends for several days.

E. H. Yoder of the Extension department of the North Dakota university will be the speaker of the evening at a big meeting planned by the Mandan Young Women's for tomorrow evening at the Lewis & Clarke hotel.

Miss Clara Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Johnson of southwest of the city, and Paul Bolling, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Bolling of Fort Rice, were united in marriage yesterday morning at the Lutheran parsonage by Rev. C. J. Fylling, pastor of the church. Miss Cecelia Johnson of Mandan and Max Smith of Huff attended the couple. Following the wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Bolling will make their home in Fort Rice.

The Mandan De Moley football team won its first game from Carson high school eleven Saturday by a score of 116 to 0 at the fair grounds gridiron.

A number of luncheons and bridge luncheons have been planned for the week's social activities. Mrs. C. D. Cooley and Mrs. J. R. Fitzsimons are joint hostesses at bridge luncheons today and Thursday, and Mrs. Frank Shaffer and Mrs. Geo. F. Wilson will entertain at bridge luncheons the same day. Mrs. W. H. Stutman was hostess at a luncheon at her home Saturday.

Protesters were charging so hard when the armistice was signed they haven't been able to stop yet.

The Tangle

LETTER FROM RALLY ATHERTON TO BEATRICE GRIMSHAW.

It has been quite a while since I wrote you, dear Bee, but I have really had nothing very pleasant to write. In fact I was a little bit ashamed to write and tell you all this is in my mind and heart and I know that if I sat down to talk to you on paper that is just what I should do.

Of course you know that Sam is regaining his eyesight rapidly and, strange as it may seem, I think I am happier with Sam blind than I am with him seeing. I presume it is because we are both so arrogant. Sam insists that I shall do exactly as he wishes me to and I insist that I shall have some individuality and opinion of my own. We split on that rock continually.

It has almost come to an open rupture again, dear Bee, and I would be very miserable were it not Sam's cousin, Jimmie Congdon, a young man whom Mr. Hamilton took on as Sam's secretary and incidentally Sam's eyes. The boy is charming. I have never met a man who is as unselfish. Do not write to me to be careful and not get unduly interested in him for he is at least 10 years younger than I.

I did not start this letter to write you about my own affairs. Like everybody else nowadays I am much interested in the movies. In fact that is about the only amusement that I allow myself. Of course Sam cannot go, consequently I seldom go to them in the evening. But usually I take in the supper show or rather the one which goes on at 5 o'clock. Then I get home about 7, in time for dinner.

I have seen a very marvelous picture lately. At least it seems to me that it is marvelous in its depiction of a woman's heart. It is called "Tramping His Heart," a rather foolish title, but all moving picture titles are silly, don't you think?

I am writing to you about it because it is produced by Abram Einstein and it seems to me that it is where Dick is working. I'd like to know more about that girl who took the principal part. There was something about her that seemed real. I know of course that if Dick were there he had written to you all about her.

The story is one of a girl who finds that the man she has loved for a year or two has married a girl in his own set. She sends for him just before the marriage and gives him back his letters. A few months after his marriage his wife has an automobile accident, her baby is born prematurely and they despair of her life. The girl who has been playing in very hard luck trying to support her own child gets a chance in a large millinery store and she decides that she will give her baby to its father and the woman he married and start all over again.

Quietly one night she leaves it on their doorstep. The wife of the man is delighted. The man, who has his suspicions, has more qualms of conscience, but more fears of being found out. But he cannot help liking the baby. The girl succeeds greatly in her new work and wants her baby back and she makes overtures to the man for him.

Provisionally she has kept one letter, the most compromising of all, and she tells the man she will give him back this letter if he will give her the child. Otherwise she will send the letter to the wife.

He tells her to go ahead and do it, that his wife will not believe her. She determines to carry out her threat by "tramping his heart."

Here comes Sam with a new advertising scheme. Will finish this letter tomorrow.

 Clare Jewett, in love with the Reverend Daniel Gilchrist, marries Jerry Goodkind for his money. Daniel is dismissed from the fashionable Church of the Nativity in New York because of his radical sermons.
 A delegation of strikers comes north to interview the president and directors. An agreement which Gilchrist drew up for the miners is shown to Goodkind and Daniel gives this magnificent 24 hours in which to sign.
 "Overcast Hall," a refuge for the unemployed, is established by Gilchrist, and apartments with baths for the poor are maintained at a minimum rent. George Goodkind calls at the hall.
 "Mr. Gilchrist tell me stay in New York," the Pale explained. "He's teach me English and find me good job. I'm work eight hours a day and six cents myself now."
 Goodkind said nothing, just reached for the door. Gilchrist, idly filling his pipe at the mantelpiece, broke in.
 "Mr. Goodkind!" he said. "Umanaki has an invention. If you'll see it—"
 "I'll see you in half an hour," came the answer and the door closed.

CHAPTER XVII

Umanaki's eyes minus the hatred they once held, but still steady and serious, had been turned intently on Goodkind as he talked.
 "What's he doing down here?" asked Umanaki with certain anxiety. "He says I'm crazy and he's going to shut up this place." Daniel snuffed as he dropped into a chair with the relaxation of one tired. "Of course, he won't."
 "Don't be so sure," said the Pale thoughtfully.
 "Nonsense," returned Gilchrist. "I made him angry." And somebody told him a lot of lies."
 "Somebody's told a good many people lies," said Umanaki. "Yesterday I heard a man say you run this place to—to get women."
 "Who said that?" Daniel looked up seriously.
 "Oh, yes?" Daniel relaxed again. "I took his daughter in here once, for a week, until he got sober."
 "There's a good many like that," pursued the other.
 "Not so many."
 "Enough to make trouble. Why not carry a pistol?"
 "It's generally men with pistols who get shot," said Gilchrist with quiet reflection.
 "One of them fellows get you—"
 Gilchrist sat off with a gesture as Mary Margaret came into the room.
 "I suppose you ain't had any supper," she said with a motherly air. Grubby had followed her in with a tray and the girl, leaning on her crutches, transferred its cargo to the table in front of Daniel.

Umanaki drew out a pocketbook and came alone.
 "I brought you some money," he said. "It's five dollars and another raise. He gonna make me boss after a while. So I like to begin to pay back what you lend me."
 Gilchrist waved him aside.
 "Wait 'till you've sent for your family," he said, making no move to accept the proffered bills.
 "I'm gonna send now," said Umanaki, smiling. "My boy I'm gonna pump make goes fine. I show my boys like you, because he know about coal mines and he say if she work she save whole lot of lives and money. She work all right." He dropped the bills on the table and brought forth an English grammar from under his coat. "How about I go upstairs and study?"

"Here," said Gilchrist. "Go right up to my room and I'll be along after the meeting." Umanaki left Margaret Mary bending over him.
 "Your supper's ready," she said. Gilchrist had caught sight of her feet, strangely adorned.
 "What's this wearing, golden slippers?" he queried, looking up at her.

"Un-huh," she assented. "I took them out of the barrel of clothes that pretty lady sent." Gilchrist pulled a chair up beside him.
 "Supper with Gilchrist," he said with a sweeping invitation gesture.
 "To what?"
 "To ask for an accounting," said Daniel, rather at a loss.
 Goodkind stared at him in amazement.

"To ask for—what?" he thundered. "Now, listen to me. I've stood all day going to stand. I've run around. You've become dangerous to yourself—and me—and the neighborhood. You're going to stop it, and you're going to stop it now."
 "That's your mistake," said Daniel, still tranquil.
 "Is it? A year ago you gave me 24 hours to sign a paper, and I did it, and it cost me $2,000,000. To-night I give you 30 minutes to shut up this place and quit seeing my daughter, and if you don't do it—"
 "I won't," said the unperturbed figure.

"I'll be here inside half an hour with a doctor." Gilchrist didn't understand.
 "Then we'll file a petition to have you declared incompetent." Goodkind banged his stick on the floor for emphasis and started for the door.
 "Don't mean that," said Daniel, helplessly. "You don't mean that because I'm trying to help—"
 "Help—whom?" returned Goodkind, wheezing. "Strikers and street women and general riff-raff. And you don't even help them—because nobody can. And if you could, and did, how in the name of God would that help the community. If I find you're still ranting down here in half an hour, I'll say you're crazy and I'll prove it." He moved toward the door.
 The door reached for the knob as the door was swung open from the other side. Goodkind backed a step to admit a tall, neatly dressed man.

"Excuse me," said the intruder, politely.
 Goodkind glowered at the man, then his face half lighted with recognition.
 "Haven't I seen you somewhere before?" he said reflectively. The man turned to answer.
 "Yes, I think so," he said. "My name's Umanaki."
 "Umanaki!" Goodkind repeated. Then he remembered. "You're not

HIGH SCHOOL CONTEST SET FOR 3 O'CLOCK

Fargo and Minot Contest
to Settle State Supremacy
on Bismarck Gridiron

ARRANGEMENTS MADE

The state high school championship football game between Minot and Bismarck will start Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock on the Bismarck gridiron.

This was announced this afternoon by Coach Houser of Bismarck High School, who is assisting the state athletic board in the arrangements.

Secretary Polk of Williston, over the telephone from Minot today, related that the game would be played in Bismarck and Superintendent Love of Mandan gave Houser his word that the matter was settled. These two are the only acting members of the state board.

Fargo reported objections to playing the game either in Bismarck or Grand Forks, and a report was circulated there that a coin would be tossed here to decide whether the game would be played in Bismarck or Minot. Principal Tighe of the Fargo high school added to the rumors.

However, the word of Secretary Polk and Supt. Love is held to have settled the matter definitely. Tickets have been ordered for the game here and arrangements were made in Mandan today for a ticket selling campaign there.

Speeders Serve As Traffic Cops

By NEA Service

Kansas City, Kas., Nov. 20.—Traffic offenders serving as traffic policemen!

A bit unusual, to be sure. Yet they are doing it here.

For Police Judge H. S. Roberts is converting reckless drivers into careful drivers by teaching them the policeman's side of it.

Instead of fining or jailing traffic-law violators, Judge Roberts is sending them to school. Persons, convicted in his court, are required to attend classes so many nights.

The traffic code is studied, and lessons are given in careful driving. Pupils are required to become letter-perfect in the city ordinances before they are "graduated" and permitted to resume driving.

Seeing the danger of speeding, "cutting in" and other forms of careless driving gives Judge Roberts' pupils a new conception on the order of things.

"Believe me," says one young man who has just finished his course, "I'm going to help the police all I can in the future."

"Hereafter, I'll drive slowly and carefully at all times. I learned a lot out there on that corner. And paying a fine wouldn't have taught me half as much."

So their friends and hangers-on won't jeer at his pupils, Judge Roberts always arranges to have policemen on hand on the corners where the fellows are "doing time."

Urges Opportunity For Music Study

By NEA Service

Washington, Nov. 20.—Unless greater opportunity is provided American musicians to compete with European talent, the study of music in this country, as the basis of a professional career, had better be abandoned.

This is the opinion of Mrs. David Allen Campbell, vice president of the National Federation of Music Clubs and chairman of the committee on music of the National Council of Women.

One alternative, in the belief of Mrs. Campbell, is action by women's organizations throughout the country to give preference to American rather than foreign artists in their programs.

Never was there a time in the history of the world when we needed more the healing influence of music than now," Mrs. Campbell says, "but if our young people entering professional life in music are to live decent, respectable lives, American women must look some facts squarely in the face."

"More than 40,000 students go to New York alone every year expecting to enter the profession of music. In addition, there are many thousands pursuing the same career in other cities. Many of these students make great sacrifices to get the finishing which the city teacher is supposed to give."

Discouragement.

"But what happens after the diploma is awarded and the finished artist is pronounced 'fine'?"

"They apply to managers and clubs for a hearing at a small fee, to gain experience for their future development. They are told they have 'no box office value.'"

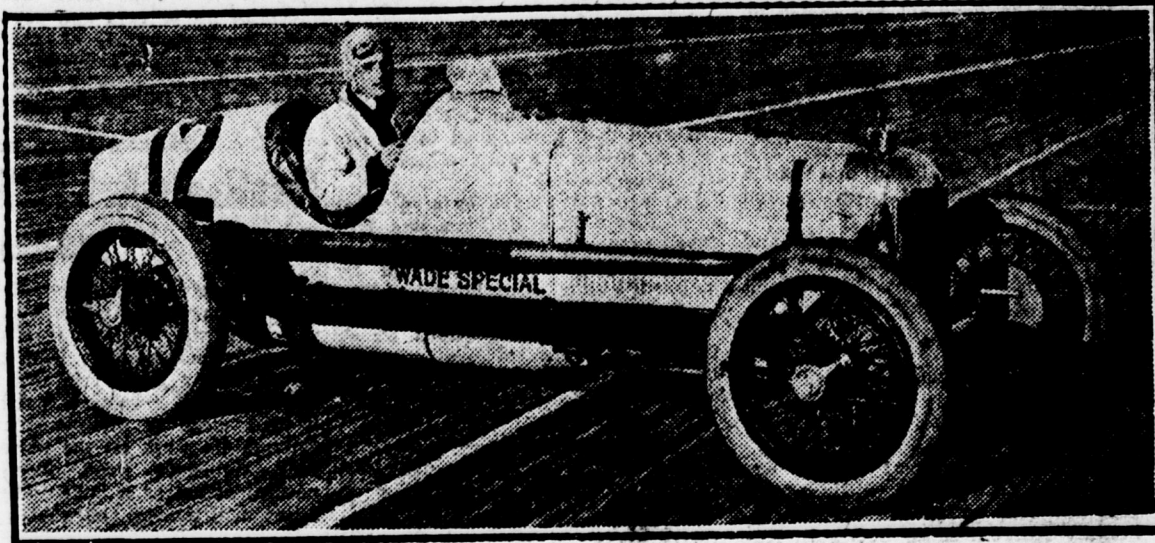

"Their money is gone and they are broken in spirit. There is no avenue through which to gain that experience which is as important as technique."

"Now, I say with emphasis, if we do not find a way to make practical the output of the thousands of teachers and schools in this country, we had better direct the talents of the young people into some channel in which they can, at least, earn a livelihood!"

Help Wanted.

"Americanization work should take on some practical form of patronizing our own artists and musicians. If the musical talent in America is to have a real opportunity for expression, it is time for women's organizations to do some-

NEWCOMER IN RACING GAME HOPES TO DETHRONE VET DRIVERS

HARLAN FENGLER IN A "WADE SPECIAL"

Murphy, Milton, DePalma and Hartz—race drivers—move over and make room for another speed hero.

The newcomer, in motor racing is Harlan Fengler, winner of the 250-mile race on the Kansas City speedway.

It is another case of youth having its day. For Fengler, winner of a $50,000 prize in the Kansas City race, is only 22 years old.

The Kansas City contest was a grueling one but young Fengler never faltered and finished the distance with an average for the 250 miles of 113.2 miles an hour.

Young Fengler merely followed the progression in the first hundred miles of the race. He was a lap behind Tommy Milton, veteran.

In the second hundred miles motor trouble forced Milton out of the race. At the 200-mile post, Fengler was in third place.

It was then that Wade, owner of the car he was driving, from the pit signaled Fengler to make his start.

Around the track he speeded at 120 miles an hour and at the finish was half a lap ahead of Eddie Hearne, second man, in a Durant special.

That another racer's name must be chalked up among those of the leaders was the declaration of the vast crowd that saw the race.

thing practicable in support of American artists.

"Passing resolutions asking someone else to provide the opportunity will not save the situation."

"GO WEST" IS STILL SLOGAN

Government Tells Youth of Today to Continue Their Journey

Washington, Nov. 20.—"East is West" in American trade and the advice "Go West, young man" is still applicable, the Department of Commerce declares pointing out that there is still a new West.

rich in undeveloped natural resources and with the capacity to absorb great quantities of American manufactured products.

"Beyond the bounds of the old West lie the oriental and other trans-Pacific countries," the department says. "There the great stretches of the East, from Bering to the Indian Ocean have become the modern West for the American business man. The trans-Pacific countries claim about one-fifth of America's total trade now, and the business is growing. Moreover, all the fundamental elements that make for sustained growth are there."

"In no quarter of the world is there larger opportunity for the application of America's business energy and acumen than in the trade of the trans-Pacific countries. We need their raw materials, and for the most part, this buying does not prevent competition affecting the welfare of our own producers of raw materials. They need our finished products and, getting them, will build up economic structures which for generations can absorb more and more of the products of our laboratories, our foundries and our factories."

"Hereafter, I'll drive slowly and carefully at all times. I learned a lot out there on that corner. And paying a fine wouldn't have taught me half as much."

So their friends and hangers-on won't jeer at his pupils, Judge Roberts always arranges to have policemen on hand on the corners where the fellows are "doing time."

TO ESTABLISH GIRLS' HOME IN INSTITUTION

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 20.—Steps will be taken by the Florence Crittenton Home association of Fargo to open and maintain a home for delinquent girls, it is announced by the board of directors. The juvenile cottage which was originally planned for this purpose, has because of financial and other reasons being used in part for other purposes.

The need for such an institution as is proposed was voiced at the recent social workers' convention held in Minot, and the directors of the Florence Crittenton Home believe that they are in a position to meet the situation providing the officials in the state are willing to co-operate.

The work will be carried on under the management of the Florence Crittenton Home, but will maintain a separate housekeeping system which will eliminate all contact with the other work of the institution.

Dr. Kate Walker Barrett, national president of The Florence Crittenton Mission, on a recent visit to Fargo, said to meet the need of the times the Florence Crittenton Mission throughout the country had made the delinquent question one of the chief branches of their work, and were successfully meeting the need which is held so urgent.

A Thought

See that none render evil for evil unto any man; but ever follow that which is good, both among yourselves, and to all men.—1 Thess. 5:15.

Never let a man imagine that he can pursue a good end by evil means, without sinning against his own soul. The evil effect on himself is certain.—Southey.

The Searchlight

The mariner stands on the bridge of his ship, peering into the dark.
Suddenly the flaming finger of a searchlight flashes out. The surrounding waters become bright as day. The course is clear.

Advertising is analogous to the searchlight. It throws its broad beams across the pages of this paper, pointing out with shining clearness just where to go for what you want, and how much you will have to pay.

In the advertising columns you can find the wares of every progressive merchant in town. You can read the offerings, compare the values, check up the statements with your previous shopping experience, and then make your selections. There's no wasted time, no needless footwork, no inconvenience.

The mariner wisely follows the searchlight. You can just as wisely follow the advertisements. They are here for your guidance. They lead you through the broad, straight channel of safety, security and satisfaction.

HIGH SCHOOL CONTEST SET FOR 3 O'CLOCK

to Settle State Supremacy

ARRANGEMENTS MADE

The state high school championship football game between Minot and Bismarck will start Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock on the Bismarck gridiron.

This was announced this afternoon by Coach Houser of Bismarck High School, who is assisting the state athletic board in the arrangements.

Secretary Polk of Williston, over the telephone from Minot today, reiterated that the game would be played in Bismarck and Superintendent Love of Mandan gave Houser his word that the matter was settled. These two are the only acting members of the state board.

Fargo reported objections to playing the game either in Bismarck or Grand Forks, and a report was circulated there that a coin would be tossed here to decide whether the game would be played in Bismarck or Minot. Principal Tighe of the Fargo high school added to the rumors.

However, the word of Secretary Polk and Supt. Love is held to have settled the matter definitely. Tickets have been ordered for the game here and arrangements were made in Mandan today for a ticket selling campaign there.

Speeders Serve As Traffic Cops

By NEA Service
Kansas City, Kas., Nov. 20.—Traffic offenders serving as traffic policemen!

A bit unusual, to be sure. Yet they are doing it here.

For Police Judge H. S. Roberts is converting reckless drivers into careful drivers by teaching them the policeman's side of it.

Instead of fining or jailing traffic-law violators, Judge Roberts is sending them to school. Persons, convicted in his court, are required to attend classes so many nights.

The traffic code is studied, and lessons are given in careful driving. Pupils are required to become better perfect in the city ordinances before they are "graduated" and permitted to resume driving.

And a part of the course is traffic regulations. Offenders are required to go to busy downtown corners and handle vehicular and pedestrian traffic for periods ranging from half an hour to an hour.

Seeing the danger of speeding, "cutting in" and other forms of careless driving gives Judge Roberts' pupils a new conception on the order of things.

"Believe me," says one young man who has just finished his course, "I'm going to help the police all I can in the future."

So their friends and hangers-on won't jeer at his pupils, Judge Roberts always arranged to have policemen on hand at the corners where the fellows are "doing time."

Urges Opportunity For Music Study

By NEA Service
Washington, Nov. 20.—Unless greater opportunity is provided American musicians to compete with European talent, the study of music in this country, as the basis of professional career, had better be abandoned.

This is the opinion of Mrs. David Allen Campbell, vice president of the National Federation of Music Clubs and chairman of the committee on music of the National Council of Women.

One alternative, in the belief of Mrs. Campbell, is action by women's organizations throughout the country to give preference to American rather than foreign artists in their programs.

"Never was there a time in the history of the world when we needed more the healing influence of music than now," Mrs. Campbell says, "but if our young people entering professional life in music are to live decent, respectable lives American women must look some facts squarely in the face."

"More than 40,000 students go to New York alone every year expecting to enter the profession of music. In addition, there are many thousands pursuing the same career in other cities. Many of these students make great sacrifices to get the finishing which the city teacher is supposed to give."

Discouragement. "But what happens after the diploma is awarded and the finished artist pronounced 'fine'?"

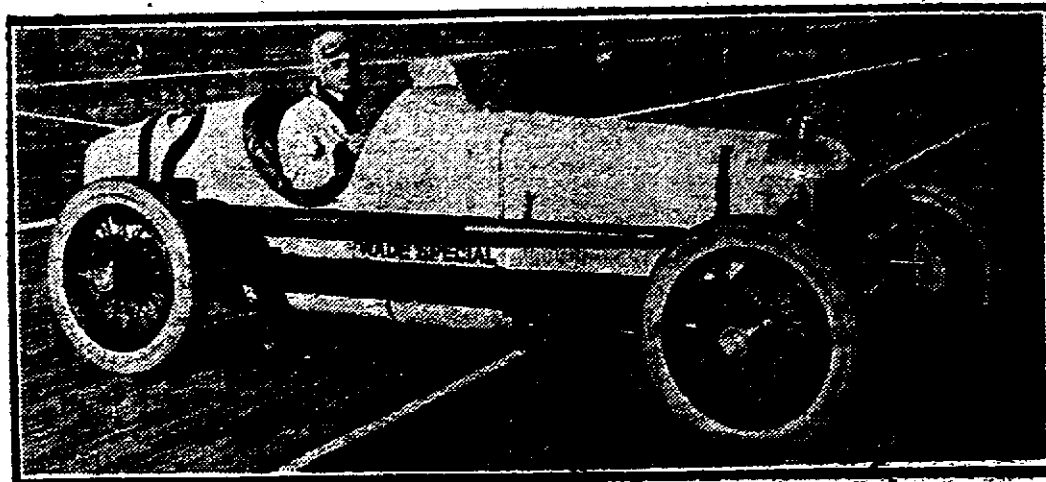

"I apply to managers and directors for a hearing at a small fee, to get experience for their future development. They are told they have 'no more of the same'."

"The money is gone and they are back in a spirit. There is no getting through which to gain that experience which is so important as to be able to play."

"Now I say to the students if we cannot find a way to make practical the output of the thousands of graduates and thousands of students who had heard and direct the talents of the young people, no more chance in which they can, at least, earn a livelihood."

Help Wanted. "Americanization work should take on some practical form of patronizing our own artists and musicians. If the musical talent in America is to have a real opportunity for expression, it is time for women's organizations to do some-

NEWCOMER IN RACING GAME HOPES TO DETHRONE VET DRIVERS

HARLAN FENGLER IN A "WADE SPECIAL"

Murphy, Milton, DePalma and Hartz—race drivers—move over and make room for another speed hero.

The newcomer, in motor racing is Harlan Fengler, winner of the 250-mile race on the Kansas City speedway.

It is another case of youth having its day. For Fengler, winner of a $9,000 prize in the Kansas City race, is only 22 years old.

The Kansas City contest was a grueling one but young Fengler never faltered and finished the distance with an average for the 250 miles of 113.2 miles an hour.

Young Fengler merely followed the progression in the first hundred miles of the race. He was a lap behind Tommy Milton, veteran.

In the second hundred miles motor trouble forced Milton out of the race. At the 200-mile post, Fengler was in third place.

It was then that Wade, owner of the car he was driving, from the pit signaled Fengler to make his sprint.

Around the track he speeded at 120 miles an hour and at the finish was half a lap ahead of Eddie Hearne, second man, in a Durant special.

That another racer's name must be chalked up among those to the leaders was the declaration of the vast crowd that saw the race.

Young Fengler, with youth, skill and nerve, is expected to be in the forefront next season.

The work will be carried on under the management of the Florence Crittenton Home, but will maintain a separate housekeeping system which will eliminate all contact with the other work of the institution.

Dr. Kate Waller Barrett, national president of The Florence Crittenton Mission, on a recent visit to Fargo, said to meet the need of the times the Florence Crittenton Mission throughout the country had made the delinquent question one of the chief branches of their work, and were successfully meeting the need which is held so urgent.

See that none render evil for evil unto any man; but ever follow that which is good, both among yourselves, and to all men.—1 Thess. 5:15.

Never let a man imagine that he can pursue a good end by evil means, without sinning against his own soul. The evil effect on himself is certain.—Southey.

TO ESTABLISH GIRLS' HOME IN INSTITUTION

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 20.—Steps will be taken by the Florence Crittenton Home association of Fargo to open and maintain a home for delinquent girls. It is announced by the board of directors. The juvenile cottage which was originally planned for this purpose, has because of financial and other reasons being used in part for other purposes.

The need for such an institution as is proposed was voiced at the recent social workers' convention held in Minot, and the directors of the Florence Crittenton Home believe that they are in a position to meet the situation providing the officials in the state are willing to co-operate.

The Searchlight

The mariner stands on the bridge of his ship, peering into the dark. Suddenly the flaming finger of a searchlight flashes out. The surrounding waters become bright as day. The course is clear.

Advertising is analogous to the searchlight. It throws its broad beams across the pages of this paper, pointing out with shining clearness just where to go for what you want, and how much you will have to pay.

In the advertising columns you can find the wares of every progressive merchant in town. You can read the offerings, compare the values, check up the statements with your previous shopping experience, and then make your selections. There's no wasted time, no needless footwork, no inconvenience.

INSTITUTE HAS FINE SESSION

J. M. Devine and Mrs. Alfred Zuger Speak at Afternoon Session

Following an enthusiastic session of the teachers of Burleigh county attending the institute being held at the court house this morning several speakers discussed topics of importance at the afternoon session.

J. M. Devine, commissioner of immigration, presented the subject of North Dakota to the teachers. He touched upon its resources and urged every one to be a booster for the state.

Mrs. Alfred Zuger, chairman of the Illiteracy Commission of Woman's clubs, covered the subject of illiteracy in the state of North Dakota. She asserted in her address that much had been accomplished in the eradication of illiteracy. She declared that the American Legion, the American Legion Auxiliary, the club women of the state, and the county superintendents of the state had done much in the drive to blot out illiteracy in North Dakota.

She said that the advance made in carrying out this work spoke well for complete success in a few years.

The meeting of county superintendents opened with an enrollment of 106. This will be augmented by an increase of 70 from McLean county tomorrow.

An important part of the session has been the conducting of classes in the various subjects taught. In this experienced teachers demonstrate for the teachers of the county the best methods of conducting classes.

HIGH SCHOOL CONFERENCE IN SESSION

Hears Speakers at Session Held Here—30 Teachers Present

Thirty high school principals from six counties were present this morning at the opening of the second day's session in the B. and P. W. club rooms. Attorney C. L. Young addressed the meeting this morning on "Civics in the High School." Mr. Young is the author of a civics text book and well versed upon the subject as a result of special study along that line.

C. L. Robertson, deputy state school superintendent, spoke on the value of physical education in the high school and Mrs. A. A. Wittemore explained the value of vital statistics to the state. She told of the work which was being done by Dr. Whitmore as head of the newly created bureau on vital statistics.

Miss Gaither, representative of the Anti-Tuberculosis society, explained the work being done by her organization in the state. Miss Henrietta J. Lund, director of children's work, an office created as a result of the passage of the laws by the Children's Code commission, described the work which was being done by her bureau in the way of improving conditions for children in the state.

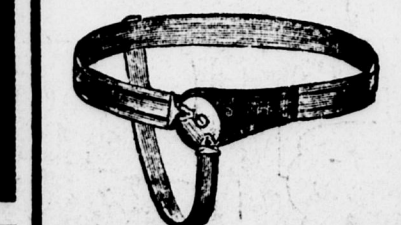

The Wednesday's session will be given over to Miss Alice Dickinson of Dickinson, author of the high school English syllabus, who will speak on the use of English in high school, and Miss Hazel Nielson who will speak on the History of the High School and Illiteracy.

DANGER IN DELAY

Kidney Diseases Are Too Dangerous For Bismarck People To Neglect.

The great danger of kidney troubles is that they so often get a firm hold before the sufferer recognizes them. Health will be gradually undermined. Backache, headache, nervousness, lameness, soreness, lumbago, urinary troubles, dropsy, gravel and Bright's disease may follow as the kidneys get worse. Don't neglect your kidneys. Help the kidneys with Doan's Kidney Pills, which are so strongly recommended right here in Bismarck.

Mrs. J. B. Saylor, 309 Mandan Ave., Bismarck, says: "From the experience I have had with Doan's Kidney Pills I can safely recommend them for disordered kidneys. I had an attack sometime ago and my eyes would smart and my back ached and bothered me a great deal. My kidneys didn't act regularly, either. I began using Doan's Kidney Pills and they were not long in relieving the trouble."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Saylor had. Foster-McBarn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Directors of Association of Commerce Support Movement to Protect Flax

Directors of the Association of Commerce, in meeting today, directed that appropriate resolutions be drawn up to be submitted to the North Dakota delegation in Congress regarding the flax and wheat tariff fights, and resolutions protesting against an increase in lignite coal rates, and pledging cooperation to the lignite coal operators in the rate fight.

The sentiment of the board was that farmers of the Northwest ought to be protected against any reduction in the tariff duty on flax, and that they should be further protected by an increase in the tariff on wheat. The lignite rate increase, as proposed by the railroads, was looked upon as an unjust blow at a growing industry in western North Dakota.
